Small Bands of Reds Under Orders Are Blamed for Prisoner Riots

Officers Expect Next Charge by Communists Will Be That of Torturing Captives in Hospitals—Removed From Area

Tokyo, May 21 (AP)—High level officers in the United Nations command today said riots and incidents in UN prisoner camps were provoked by small bands of die-hard Communists acting on orders to show that the UNC is mistreating POWs.

One riot, at Pusan yesterday, and one incident, on violence-ridden Koje Island earlier this month, occurred in prisoner hospitals.

The next move of the Reds, the officers said, undoubtedly will be to unleash violent accusations that the UNC is so low and contemptible that it is even torturing patients in the hospitals.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the Pusan outbreak was touched off by a small group of agitators among hospital orderlies. One Red POW was killed and 85 were injured in the 2½ hour melee.

Prisoner-inmates and prisoner-doctors in the Koje hospital went on a sitdown strike Friday. They were removed from the hospital to a separate compound Monday without incident.

"The (Puson) riot Tuesday was only part of the overall Communist plan," one United Nations officer said. He said these prisoners had not been screened.

"The Reds are carrying out this agitation in the prison compounds in South Korea, in the same way they operate on a world scale. First they attack in Korea, then Indochina, then somewhere else. It all follows the same pattern."

He asked not to be named because the statement was his opinion and identifying him would put an official stamp on the story.

Holds Same Views

Another high officer who is close to the prisoner problem had the same views:

"It looks as if there is a plan to embarrass and frustrate us.

"In addition they are providing themselves with a lot of manufactured incidents for propaganda purposes."

Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander, has increased the guard detail by more than 5,000 men, but there are 170,000 prisoners.

According to the screening report, only 70,000 of these are admitted Communists.

But there has long been a suspicion within the UN command that some Communist soldiers in Korea surrendered under instructions.

Aiken Says Grain Prices Were Down By Manipulations

Vermont Senator Assails Politicians in His Attack Upon Brannan

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R.-Vt.) charged today that political manipulators forced grain prices down a billion dollars in 1948 and declared "they're not going to do it again this year if I can stop it."

Aiken was carrying along his attack on Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, as the cabinet officer began testifying before the Senate Agriculture Committee to reply to criticism of his department.

Brannan brought on Aiken's outbursts by charging that some of the difficulties of his department with grain storage were caused by limitations which he said Congress put in the Commodity Credit (CCC) Charter Act in 1948.

He said these prevented his department from taking effective action to expand storage facilities for huge 1948 crops it had to buy up under the farm price support laws.

'Erroneous View'

Aiken, who headed the Senate agriculture group in 1948 in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress, immediately declared Brannan had given an entirely erroneous view of the 1948 law.

"But then," he said, "someone got the idea to spread it around the country that there was a lack of storage space. The price of grain was forced down a billion dollars and they put the blame on Congress.

"They played a dirty trick on the farmers. They lost a billion dollars for purely political reasons. They're not going to do it again this year if I can stop it."

Chairman Ellender (D.-Ia.) of the committee, the only Democratic senator present as the hearing opened, told Aiken "that's your opinion" of what happened in 1948.

The committee has been going into a variety of cases.

Some have involved alleged misconduct of Agriculture Department employes; most were concerned with losses on grain and other commodities stored under the farm price support program.

Business Was Bad, So—

Chicago, May 21 (AP)—Police seized two men at work yesterday replacing a plate glass window which, officers said, they had helped to break. Police Capt. George Barnes said the two men also had helped to break other plate glass windows because, they said, business was slack and they are working only four days a week. Two other men were seized by police in connection with hurling bricks through $1,400 worth of windows on south side stores. Barnes said charges of malicious mischief were to be placed against Thomas O'Connor, 29, and Francis Quigley, 27, arrested at work replacing a window, and Russell Ercegovac, 26.

Boy, 15, Is Convicted

Eugene, Ore., May 21 (AP)—A 15-year-old boy was convicted yesterday of first degree murder in the slaying of an 18-year-old deaf mute girl. A circuit court jury which recommended leniency for the boy—Eugene Harlan Belcher—deliberated the case four hours. Judge C. F. Skipworth said the recommendation for leniency made a sentence of life imprisonment mandatory.

Collier Makes Port After Collision

Providence, R. I., May 21 (AP)—The 6,643-ton collier Michael Tracy docked at the Providence Gas Company today with a bashed-in bow and flooded forward compartment resulting from a collision in fog off Block Island, early today.

No one was injured in the collision with the 7,607-ton freighter President Tyler, bound to New York from Boston. The Tyler had a 20-foot rip in her port side amidships and the Tracy's starboard anchor was stuck in the hole. She also continued under her own power.

Capt. Harold L. Acey of Newport News, Va., commanding the Tracy, declined to make a statement pending coast guard investigation of the accident.

But crew members said the Tyler's whistle was heard, the Tracy's engine was put full astern and three whistle blasts were given to show that maneuver.

Nevertheless the ships collided, with an impact which knocked chairs over and shot filing cabinet drawers open on board the Tracy.

Capt. Acey told Comdr. Lester W. Raynes of the Providence office of the coast guard, "I didn't dream she was going to cross my bow."

Highland Approves Fluoridation, Will Install Equipment

Water District Contract Awarded to Albany Concern—First in County

Highland is the first Ulster county community to approve fluoridation of its water system, it was learned today.

The Highland Water District, which some time ago assigned Engineer Edward I. McCaffery, of this city, to work on fluoridation plans, recently awarded a contract to the Proportioneers Co., of Albany to install fluoridation equipment.

No Definite Action Here

Fluoridation is currently under consideration at Kingston and in the town of Esopus, but neither has taken definite action to date.

Kingston which had served as the control city in a state experiment while the water in Newburgh was fluoridated for several years, was recently authorized by the state to proceed with fluoridation plans if it saw fit.

The experiment in which Kingston and Newburgh served was aimed at determining whether the use of fluorine lessened dental caries, and state reports at the time Kingston was given a release from its role as the control city, indicated there were noticeable beneficial effects from the use of fluorine in drinking water.

Tabled for Study

The proposal was discussed by the local water board last year and tabled pending further study. The town of Esopus took initial steps toward fluoridation and also delayed the project for later action.

Catskill, meanwhile, is also considering fluoridation of its water system.

Installation of fluoridation equipment at Highland, probably within the next month, will be done under supervision of Engineer McCaffery.

Machine Aids Man In Roulette Betting

Los Angeles, May 21 (AP)—Donald May has a machine he claims enabled him and two friends to earn $50 an hour on 25-cent bets at roulette wheels in Las Vegas, Nev.

The machine, housed in a small box, has a 12-key calculator and six separate meters which keep track of how certain sets of numbers are winning and losing.

May says he determines which sets are winning the least and "I'll then bet on a set that has failed to show in six, seven or eight times."

He doubles the bet after losing.

In roulette the player can bet on any one of six sets of numbers as well as individual numbers.

May says he has been working on the machine for three years. What it does, he says, is help him take advantage of the law of averages.

May, an aircraft machinist, refused to disclose their total earnings.

It was cool in parts of the rainy areas, with lowest readings in the northern Great Lakes region and in sections of Nevada. Warm weather continued in the Middle and South Atlantic coastal area, the Gulf Coast westward to the Far Southwest and over the Central Plains.

Reds Flail Handling of POW Riots

Nam Il 'Demands' Data on Incident in Which Prisoner Was Killed, 85 Injured

Joy Gives Answer

Admiral Accuses Foe of Hypocrisy, Childish Distortions

Munsan, Korea, May 21 (AP)—Communist negotiators at the tightly deadlocked Korean armistice talks today protested allied handling of Red riots at an allied prisoner of war hospital at Pusan.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il demanded an accounting of the incident in which one prisoner was killed and 85 were injured.

The Communists got little satisfaction from Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior allied delegate. He told the Reds:

"The only progressive move your side can make is to inform us when you are ready to consummate a cessation of hostilities in Korea by accepting our proposal."

Return Is Demanded

The Reds are demanding the return of all their captured soldiers in the event of an armistice. The allies say that more than half the 169,000 Red prisoners refuse to return to Red rule. The United Nations command refuses to force them to go back.

The truce delegations will meet again tomorrow.

Joy, who goes to Panmunjom tomorrow for the last time, gave Nam Il a stern lecture. He accused the Reds of "crass hypocrisy" and "childish distortions" in negotiations on exchange of prisoners.

Joy has been appointed superintendent of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Seizes on Riots

Nam Il seized on the Pusan riots to raise anew charges that the Allies committed "acts of terror" and murder in handling Red captives.

"I would seriously warn your side here that your side must bear the full and absolute responsibility for the consequences of the acts of terror and murder against our captured personnel which are evidently being brewed by your side," the Red general declared.

The army said the 2½ hour fight at Pusan erupted when fanatical Reds serving as hospital orderlies defied orders to leave the compound for transfer elsewhere.

Joy Asks Questions

On Red handling of captured Allied personnel, Joy asked a series of questions:

"Have Red POW camps been open to neutral benevolent societies? Have the Reds agreed to exchange seriously sick and injured prisoners? Have the Reds restored to POW status 50,000 unaccounted captured allied soldiers?

"You have not," Joy told Nam Il.

For the first time, Nam accused the allied command of violating the United Nations charter by using violence against allied-held prisoners.

Infantry Uses Grenades at Camp

Seoul, Korea, May 21 (AP)—Combat-wise American infantrymen used concussion grenades and a show of force to put down yesterday's outbreak of violence at a Communist prisoner of war camp in Pusan, the U. S. Eighth Army disclosed today.

The army said the Red rioters were armed with makeshift spears, barbed wire flails, rocks and similar weapons.

Concussion grenades are designed to stun their victims. They do not burst into small, sharp flying pieces as do deadly fragmentation grenades.

One Prisoner Killed

One prisoner was killed in the vicious fighting at the hospital in Camp No. 10. The army did not say how he died, but correspondents in Pusan said he may have been bayoneted.

Eighty-five POW's were injured. Half their injuries were minor. One American guard suffered a minor injury.

The army said segregation of

General Is Given Highest Honor

Paris, May 21 (AP)—France conferred its highest honor—the Medaille Militaire — on General Dwight D. Eisenhower today in a farewell tribute within the shadow of Napoleon's tomb.

The supreme commander of allied powers in Europe received the award from Premier Antoine Pinay in the Court of Honor of Les Invalides.

The last foreigner to receive this mark of France's highest esteem was Prime Minister Winston Churchill in 1946.

Taft Wins 7 Votes In Montana; Fight Goes On in 5 States

Eisenhower Backers Get One Vote in West; House Debate Occurs on Foreign Spending

(By The Associated Press)

While some Taft and Eisenhower supporters collided in their quest for presidential-nominating votes, others locked in House debate today on the issue of foreign aid spending.

Forces of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio won seven of Montana's eight Republican delegates at a convention in Helena last night. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's backers got one after blocking a move to instruct the delegation for Taft.

But in at least five other states—Maryland, Washington, Connecticut, Minnesota and Texas—signs of the continuing struggle were patent.

At Annapolis, Maryland Gov. Theodore McKeldin said he wants the state's 24 delegates, to be picked at a Baltimore meeting Saturday, to be uninstructed and uncommitted. McKeldin, expected to head the group as "favorite son," reportedly favors Eisenhower.

Bitter Battle in Spokane

Washington's GOP convention at Spokane Saturday will wind up one of the bitterest battles in years for its 24 votes. Eisenhower leaders claim at least 16, but Taft backers predict an even-steven split.

Eisenhower partisans expect to get all 22 of Connecticut's GOP delegates to be chosen at a Hartford convention May 26-27. Taft backers are frankly pessimistic of their chances.

In Minnesota, a fight over the GOP national committeeman post comes to a head at a state committee meeting Saturday. Incumbent Roy Dunn is a Taft man. He is opposed by George F. Etzell, backed by Gov. C. Elmer Anderson who is supporting Eisenhower.

At Austin, the Texas State Supreme Court had under advisement a suit aimed at deciding which set of contesting delegates should be certified to the May 27 state GOP convention. Arguments, which ended yesterday, involved Taft and Eisenhower forces.

Expected to Align

Boosters of Taft and Eisenhower were expected to line up in the House on opposite sides of the debate opening today on the administration's $7,900,000,000 foreign aid program.

Taft has said he would support a bill totaling six billion dollars—the measure already has been trimmed about a billion in committees. Eisenhower has said the billion-dollar cut would hurt and any more would endanger the nation's security.

A statement by Eisenhower yesterday, meanwhile, was measured for campaign significance in the Republican camp. On a farewell visit to the Netherlands, the gen-

Bridges to Toss Queries at General At Senate Hearing

Republican Leader Plans Series of Questions —Would Present Fifth Star

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway came under sharp questioning from senators today about the Koje island incidents which one lawmaker told him had brought shock and a sense of shame here at home.

The queries were fired at the former UN commander in the Far East behind closed doors but Senator Russell (D.-Ga.), presiding at the session, sent reporters a copy of a statement he made.

In statement, Russell congratulated Ridgway "for the magnificent job you have performed as a leader of our fighting men in a grim and bloody war," but used such words as "bewildering" and "shocking" in reference to the "kidnaping" of a U. S. general by Communist prisoners on Koje island.

Gets Welcome

Ridgway, given a celebrity's welcome to the capital, was technically before the Senate Armed Services Committee which Russell heads.

However, all senators had been invited to attend and more than one-third of the membership was on hand when the doors were closed.

While this meeting was going on, it was announced that Ridgway will address a joint meeting of the Senate and the House at 11:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Ridgway is en route to Europe to replace General Dwight D. Eisenhower as head of North Atlantic Treaty Organization Forces.

Many lawmakers abandoned usual forenoon committee sessions to hear the four-star general discuss conditions in Korea and the Far East and his plans for heading the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe.

Ridgway, flanked by Pentagon officers, attracted a group of tourists and Senate office workers

Approval Is Sought for Six Billions

Foreign Affairs Leader Opens Battle to Get Fund for Economic and Military Aid

More Cuts Likely

Reductions of Another Billion Is Predicted by Opponents

By RUSSELL BRINES

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Rep. Richards (D.-S.C.) told the House today America's European allies will "raise and support" about four million soldiers and will produce 3½ billion dollars worth of weapons next year.

This force, if placed on active duty, would be an increase of approximately 1,600,000 men over present European strength.

Richards said allied forces already have over 5¼ million men under arms or quickly available throughout the world. The active armies of the Soviet Union, including satellite forces, total around four million men, according to recent estimates.

Richards, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, opened the fight for House approval of $6,889,100,000 in foreign military and economic aid for the year starting July 1.

The bill, already one billion dollars less than President Truman requested, faced strong demands for further cuts. Reductions of another one billion dollars have been predicted.

Greece, Turkey Included

Committee officials said Richards' outline of European troop strength included Greece and Turkey, which have a total force of around 500,000.

Richards said in a prepared speech the active forces of western Europe, excluding Greece and Turkey, totaled 1,880,000 in January, 1952.

Therefore a buildup to four million men would mean an increase of about 1,620,000.

The total worldwide force of active and mobilizable troops, Richards said, has increased about 1½ million in the last two years.

"It seems to me," the chairman added, "that only the most stubborn defeatist could fail to be immensely encouraged by the increase and improvement in allied military strength over two short years."

Notes Test of Strength

Richards took note of an expected test of strength between Republican supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the final total of the bill.

"Even Mr. Taft has said that the mutual security program must not be killed and abandoned," he said.

Taft supporters are expected to propose deep slashes with Eisenhower backers proposing lesser cuts.

Richards said Congress has voiced its support of mutual defense by appropriating 162 billion dollars since 1948 for domestic and foreign military programs and economic aid abroad.

Richards said that those who vote to cut deeply "may be voting to throw away the one best chance of avoiding World War 3.

Rep. Vorys (R.-Ohio), leading the fight for further reductions, has predicted another billion-dollar slash. Rep. Leo E. Allen (R.-Ill.) told the House yesterday he hoped the bill would be cut in half.

Both are backers of Taft who said he would support a bill totalling six billion.

Rep. Fulton (R-Pa.) told a reporter that he and other Eisenhower supporters would propose moderate cuts.

Eisenhower has said a one-billion-dollar reduction in the program would be "heavily and seriously felt," and that cuts substantially beyond that point might endanger U. S. security.

Taft and Eisenhower are top contenders for the GOP presidential nomination.

Pay Roll Is Seized

New York, May 21 (AP)—A gunman held up a woman bookkeeper in the lobby of a Broadway building today and escaped with a $4,500 pay roll, police reported. Annette Gardenberg, 22, employed by the Anne Marie Sportswear Company, said she was returning to the company's office from a bank when the man forced her to hand over the money.

Further Tightening of Ties Seen Possible With U.S. Allies

Washington, May 21, (AP)—W. Averell Harriman said today that the progress toward unity made by the United States and its Atlantic allies indicates they can tighten further their economic, political and defense ties.

The Mutual Security Director added that as the strongest partner in the European alliance the U. S. has a special responsibility to avoid misusing its strength and to try to see its neighbor's viewpoints.

"Things do not look exactly alike viewed from Washington, London, Paris, Rome or other capitals," he said.

Harriman made his remarks in an address prepared for a luncheon meeting of the Atlantic Union Committee's National Council. He received the organization's annual award for having done most to forward mutual progress and increase the security of the Atlantic community as a whole.

In presenting the award, Mrs. Robert P. Patterson, widow of the former secretary of war, said the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) must develop economic and political relationships to support its defense forces.

Mrs. Patterson criticized a house foreign affairs subcommittee for advocating a "get tough policy" on foreign aid. She said U. S. tariff increases and import quotas have made it appear to Europe that this country thought it "more important to save the blue cheese industry than to prevent world economic victory for Stalin."

The national council opened a two-day conference to discuss ways and means of strengthening NATO.

Infantry Uses Grenades at Camp

Seoul, Korea, May 21 (AP)—Combat-wise American infantrymen used concussion grenades and a show of force to put down yesterday's outbreak of violence at a Communist prisoner of war camp in Pusan, the U. S. Eighth Army disclosed today.

The army said the Red rioters were armed with makeshift spears, barbed wire flails, rocks and similar weapons.

Concussion grenades are designed to stun their victims. They do not burst into small, sharp flying pieces as do deadly fragmentation grenades.

One Prisoner Killed

One prisoner was killed in the vicious fighting at the hospital in Camp No. 10. The army did not say how he died, but correspondents in Pusan said he may have been bayoneted.

Eighty-five POW's were injured. Half their injuries were minor. One American guard suffered a minor injury.

The army said segregation of

Reds Flail Handling of POW Riots

Nam Il 'Demands' Data on Incident in Which Prisoner Was Killed, 85 Injured

Joy Gives Answer

Admiral Accuses Foe of Hypocrisy, Childish Distortions

Munsan, Korea, May 21 (AP)—Communist negotiators at the tightly deadlocked Korean armistice talks today protested allied handling of Red riots at an allied prisoner of war hospital at Pusan.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il demanded an accounting of the incident in which one prisoner was killed and 85 were injured.

The Communists got little satisfaction from Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior allied delegate. He told the Reds:

"The only progressive move your side can make is to inform us when you are ready to consummate a cessation of hostilities in Korea by accepting our proposal."

Return Is Demanded

The Reds are demanding the return of all their captured soldiers in the event of an armistice. The allies say that more than half the 169,000 Red prisoners refuse to return to Red rule. The United Nations command refuses to force them to go back.

The truce delegations will meet again tomorrow.

Joy, who goes to Panmunjom tomorrow for the last time, gave Nam Il a stern lecture. He accused the Reds of "crass hypocrisy" and "childish distortions" in negotiations on exchange of prisoners.

Joy has been appointed superintendent of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Seizes on Riots

Nam Il seized on the Pusan riots to raise anew charges that the Allies committed "acts of terror" and murder in handling Red captives.

"I would seriously warn your side here that your side must bear the full and absolute responsibility for the consequences of the acts of terror and murder against our captured personnel which are evidently being brewed by your side," the Red general declared.

The army said the 2½ hour fight at Pusan erupted when fanatical Reds serving as hospital orderlies defied orders to leave the compound for transfer elsewhere.

Joy Asks Questions

On Red handling of captured Allied personnel, Joy asked a series of questions:

"Have Red POW camps been open to neutral benevolent societies? Have the Reds agreed to exchange seriously sick and injured prisoners? Have the Reds restored to POW status 50,000 unaccounted captured allied soldiers?

"You have not," Joy told Nam Il.

For the first time, Nam accused the allied command of violating the United Nations charter by using violence against allied-held prisoners.

General Is Given Highest Honor

Paris, May 21 (AP)—France conferred its highest honor—the Medaille Militaire — on General Dwight D. Eisenhower today in a farewell tribute within the shadow of Napoleon's tomb.

The supreme commander of allied powers in Europe received the award from Premier Antoine Pinay in the Court of Honor of Les Invalides.

The last foreigner to receive this mark of France's highest esteem was Prime Minister Winston Churchill in 1946.

Taft Wins 7 Votes In Montana; Fight Goes On in 5 States

Eisenhower Backers Get One Vote in West; House Debate Occurs on Foreign Spending

(By The Associated Press)

While some Taft and Eisenhower supporters collided in their quest for presidential-nominating votes, others locked in House debate today on the issue of foreign aid spending.

Forces of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio won seven of Montana's eight Republican delegates at a convention in Helena last night. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's backers got one after blocking a move to instruct the delegation for Taft.

But in at least five other states—Maryland, Washington, Connecticut, Minnesota and Texas—signs of the continuing struggle were patent.

At Annapolis, Maryland Gov. Theodore McKeldin said he wants the state's 24 delegates, to be picked at a Baltimore meeting Saturday, to be uninstructed and uncommitted. McKeldin, expected to head the group as "favorite son," reportedly favors Eisenhower.

Bitter Battle in Spokane

Washington's GOP convention at Spokane Saturday will wind up one of the bitterest battles in years for its 24 votes. Eisenhower leaders claim at least 16, but Taft backers predict an even-steven split.

Eisenhower partisans expect to get all 22 of Connecticut's GOP delegates to be chosen at a Hartford convention May 26-27. Taft backers are frankly pessimistic of their chances.

In Minnesota, a fight over the GOP national committeeman post comes to a head at a state committee meeting Saturday. Incumbent Roy Dunn is a Taft man. He is opposed by George F. Etzell, backed by Gov. C. Elmer Anderson who is supporting Eisenhower.

At Austin, the Texas State Supreme Court had under advisement a suit aimed at deciding which set of contesting delegates should be certified to the May 27 state GOP convention. Arguments, which ended yesterday, involved Taft and Eisenhower forces.

Expected to Align

Boosters of Taft and Eisenhower were expected to line up in the House on opposite sides of the debate opening today on the administration's $7,900,000,000 foreign aid program.

Taft has said he would support a bill totaling six billion dollars—the measure already has been trimmed about a billion in committees. Eisenhower has said the billion-dollar cut would hurt and any more would endanger the nation's security.

A statement by Eisenhower yesterday, meanwhile, was measured for campaign significance in the Republican camp. On a farewell visit to the Netherlands, the gen-

Bridges to Toss Queries at General At Senate Hearing

Republican Leader Plans Series of Questions —Would Present Fifth Star

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway came under sharp questioning from senators today about the Koje island incidents which one lawmaker told him had brought shock and a sense of shame here at home.

The queries were fired at the former UN commander in the Far East behind closed doors but Senator Russell (D.-Ga.), presiding at the session, sent reporters a copy of a statement he made.

In statement, Russell congratulated Ridgway "for the magnificent job you have performed as a leader of our fighting men in a grim and bloody war," but used such words as "bewildering" and "shocking" in reference to the "kidnaping" of a U. S. general by Communist prisoners on Koje island.

Gets Welcome

Ridgway, given a celebrity's welcome to the capital, was technically before the Senate Armed Services Committee which Russell heads.

However, all senators had been invited to attend and more than one-third of the membership was on hand when the doors were closed.

While this meeting was going on, it was announced that Ridgway will address a joint meeting of the Senate and the House at 11:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Ridgway is en route to Europe to replace General Dwight D. Eisenhower as head of North Atlantic Treaty Organization Forces.

Many lawmakers abandoned usual forenoon committee sessions to hear the four-star general discuss conditions in Korea and the Far East and his plans for heading the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe.

Ridgway, flanked by Pentagon officers, attracted a group of tourists and Senate office workers

Approval Is Sought for Six Billions

Foreign Affairs Leader Opens Battle to Get Fund for Economic and Military Aid

More Cuts Likely

Reductions of Another Billion Is Predicted by Opponents

By RUSSELL BRINES

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Rep. Richards (D.-S.C.) told the House today America's European allies will "raise and support" about four million soldiers and will produce 3½ billion dollars worth of weapons next year.

This force, if placed on active duty, would be an increase of approximately 1,600,000 men over present European strength.

Richards said allied forces already have over 5¼ million men under arms or quickly available throughout the world. The active armies of the Soviet Union, including satellite forces, total around four million men, according to recent estimates.

Richards, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, opened the fight for House approval of $6,889,100,000 in foreign military and economic aid for the year starting July 1.

The bill, already one billion dollars less than President Truman requested, faced strong demands for further cuts. Reductions of another one billion dollars have been predicted.

Greece, Turkey Included

Committee officials said Richards' outline of European troop strength included Greece and Turkey, which have a total force of around 500,000.

Richards said in a prepared speech the active forces of western Europe, excluding Greece and Turkey, totaled 1,880,000 in January, 1952.

Therefore a buildup to four million men would mean an increase of about 1,620,000.

The total worldwide force of active and mobilizable troops, Richards said, has increased about 1½ million in the last two years.

"It seems to me," the chairman added, "that only the most stubborn defeatist could fail to be immensely encouraged by the increase and improvement in allied military strength over two short years."

Notes Test of Strength

Richards took note of an expected test of strength between Republican supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the final total of the bill.

"Even Mr. Taft has said that the mutual security program must not be killed and abandoned," he said.

Taft supporters are expected to propose deep slashes with Eisenhower backers proposing lesser cuts.

Richards said Congress has voiced its support of mutual defense by appropriating 162 billion dollars since 1948 for domestic and foreign military programs and economic aid abroad.

Richards said that those who vote to cut deeply "may be voting to throw away the one best chance of avoiding World War 3.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), leading the fight for further reductions, has predicted another billion-dollar slash. Rep. Leo E. Allen (R-Ill.) told the House yesterday he hoped the bill would be cut in half.

Both are backers of Taft who said he would support a bill totalling six billion.

Rep. Fulton (R-Pa.) told a reporter that he and other Eisenhower supporters would propose moderate cuts.

Eisenhower has said a one-billion-dollar reduction in the program would be "heavily and seriously felt," and that cuts substantially beyond that point might endanger U. S. security.

Taft and Eisenhower are top contenders for the GOP presidential nomination.

Pay Roll Is Seized

New York, May 21 (AP)—A gunman held up a woman bookkeeper in the lobby of a Broadway building today and escaped with a $4,500 pay roll, police reported. Annette Gardenberg, 22, employed by the Anne Marie Sportswear Company, said she was returning to the company's office from a bank when the man forced her to hand over the money.

Further Tightening of Ties Seen Possible With U.S. Allies

Washington, May 21, (AP)—W. Averell Harriman said today that the progress toward unity made by the United States and its Atlantic allies indicates they can tighten further their economic, political and defense ties.

The Mutual Security Director added that as the strongest partner in the European alliance the U. S. has a special responsibility to avoid misusing its strength and to try to see its neighbor's viewpoints.

"Things do not look exactly alike viewed from Washington, London, Paris, Rome or other capitals," he said.

Harriman made his remarks in an address prepared for a luncheon meeting of the Atlantic Union Committee's National Council. He received the organization's annual award for having done most to forward mutual progress and increase the security of the Atlantic community as a whole.

In presenting the award, Mrs. Robert P. Patterson, widow of the former secretary of war, said the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) must develop economic and political relationships to support its defense forces.

Mrs. Patterson criticized a house foreign affairs subcommittee for advocating a "get tough policy" on foreign aid. She said U. S. tariff increases and import quotas have made it appear to Europe that this country thought it "more important to save the blue cheese industry than to prevent world economic victory for Stalin."

The national council opened a two-day conference to discuss ways and means of strengthening NATO.

El Paso, Tex., May 21 (AP)—A Tulsa minister has testified that Mrs. Mary Jean Parsons did not seem particularly excited over marrying the army officer she is charged with shooting to death. The Rev. The minister, one of several witnesses, said the pretty blonde was not emotionally responsive to any situation.

Minister Testifies

El Paso, Tex., May 21 (AP)—A Tulsa minister has testified that Mrs. Mary Jean Parsons did not seem particularly excited over marrying the army officer she is charged with shooting to death. The Rev. Clyde Hoggard, vicar at St. John's Episcopal Church, Tulsa, testified yesterday in the sanity hearing for the 21-year-old daughter of a wealthy Tulsa oil family. She is charged with the death of Lt. Richard O. Parsons last Feb. 16. Defense attorneys say Mrs. Parsons is insane now and was insane at the time of the shooting. The minister, one of several witnesses, said the pretty blonde was not emotionally responsive to any situation.

REDS BLACKMAILING HUMANITY

A new United Nations survey of world economic and social conditions indirectly serves to measure the magnitude of communism's crime against men of this age.

While the survey found that a third of the globe's total population was making significant strides toward higher living standards, it concluded that the other two-thirds is fighting a losing battle against hunger, poor housing, ignorance and general poverty.

Communism, if you recall the advertisements from the Kremlin and assorted branch offices, is supposed to be a cure for all the ailments of modern-day humanity. Communism is supposed to be the people's friend.

No one would pretend that if there were no Moscow-directed communism all the ills of the world would thereby be solved and upwards of two billion people would be enjoying a high standard of living.

Yet it is a dismal fact that the United States and many other free nations are pouring billions of dollars annually into armaments, using up steel and other substances and commandeering the skills of millions of men. All these materials and all these talents could obviously be put to far better purpose improving the lot of Americans, of Europeans, indeed, of all mankind.

We and the rest of the West are not in the category marked by the UN as fighting a losing battle with poverty. But our technical knowledge, our machinery, our chemicals and fertilizers and other materials could be at work right now on a considerable scale combatting the handicaps of the unfortunate two-thirds.

The UN discovered there is today 6 per cent less food in the world than before World War II, even though there are millions more mouths to feed. Supplies have declined most sharply in areas where they are most needed —as in the Far East. If you could ask the Chinese under Communist rule, what would they say of the blessings brought by "benevolent" communism?

The housing problem is universal, but it is naturally much worse in under-developed regions. In these, an estimated 150 million families need new homes; in more advanced areas, the figure is 30 million. A study of 17 European nations showed that if pre-war construction rates were doubled, it would take an average of 22 years to meet housing needs. Yet nowhere are such building rates possible.

That they are not is due to great part to communism. Our prime task today is not to advance ourselves and the world along the road of human betterment, but to prevent the gains we have already made from being destroyed. We must defend ourselves against a program of conquest which masquerades as a revolution of the people.

Even in backward countries, progress will be made in time despite the Kremlin's menace. But how much more could be done if we were free to focus our energies on building for peace instead of for possible war.

Every tank built by the free nations, every gun, every plane is an evidence that the Russians are blackmailing humanity, sucking out substance that should be thrown into the fight for the uplifting of men's lives. To offer this blackmail as the solvent for human ills is to perpetrate the greatest fraud in history.

A new biography of Wendell Willkie entitled "Wendell Willkie, 1892-1944," will be of interest to those who remember his sudden and somewhat sensational arrival on the political scene in 1940. The author is Mary Earheart Dillion, chairman of the Department of Political Sciences at Queens University. As the subject for a biography Willkie is interesting indeed.

Going to Congress is getting to be a habit in the Bolton family of Cleveland. The recent state primary had one unprecedented outcome, the simultaneous nomination for Congress of a mother and son. Mrs. Frances P. Bolton has represented a Northern Ohio district in the House since 1940. She then succeeded her husband, who had served for several years. She was renominated at the primary, and at the same time her son, Oliver P. Bolton, was made the Republican candidate in an adjoining district which is expected to be safe for the party.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

An autobiography is the most difficult of all literary designs and few of them have survived the centuries. Herbert Hoover, in the second volume of his autobiography, "The Memoirs of Herbert Hoover," says of this:

"Four of the 32 Presidents of the United States have ventured into the field of autobiography. They were John Quincy Adams, Ulysses S. Grant, Theodore Roosevelt, and Calvin Coolidge. The diaries of James K. Polk also possibly belong in this category. . . .

"Every autobiography has a major justification. It presents the participation of an individual among forces and events which, if recorded, contributes pieces of mosaic to the historian. From these pieces he creates great murals of human experience—with the hope that they will illuminate the way of human progress."

Whittaker Chambers has written an autobiography, entitled "Witness," a segment of which has already been published in "The Saturday Evening Post." The prefatory letter to his children has been read on the radio and television and is known to millions of Americans.

The autobiography is important from two standpoints:

This is the story of hundreds, if not thousands of young Americans who, during the years of the Depression, found themselves utterly bewildered by the circumstances of the moment. The Depression left them without hope and prospect. Having been reared in a secular environment, their faith in existing institutions stood on sand; they turned to Karl Marx as the prophet of the future.

The sensitive youth is rarely appreciated in his own environment where often ridicule is the response to the challenge of his differing personality. Thus, many of our young people, in those years, were caught in the frigidity of a loneliness which drove them to the excitement of changing the world—changing it fast.

Whittaker Chambers is one of these thousands of young men and women. Some became Communists; some became spies; some became "leftists," which is a round term for disagreement with the state of the world as it is. In an earlier period, such young people might have become missionaries, settlement workers, labor leaders, muckraking journalists, fighters for causes.

Chambers is an extremely sensitive, artistic person who lives in philosophy and music and a love for life. And he did not find it in the life of the years of the depression in the world of his youth. His search was for a way to change the world by his own efforts with the sureness that it had to be changed.

His autobiography will be read as a fascinating story, but I do not think of his book as the story of a man but as clinical report on a generation that went wrong. We need not limit our criticism of that generation to the Communists; even those who are not Communists often lack the spiritual values which sustained this nation for three centuries, but which we are losing. I often wonder what our children are being taught and why we blame them for not knowing what no one has exposed to them in their formative years. A tree will not be stronger than its roots.

Chambers became a spy against his own country. He did not spy for pay; he spied to change the world. His labors brought him poverty. When he realized the enormity of his crime, he did not change over to gain wealth by writing a book or to go on a lecture tour. He chose loneliness and poverty. Desperate for bread, he was rescued by a job on "Time," but he was not converted for a job. He was converted because his soul demanded it.

When he exposed himself, the statute of limitations did not apply. This is an amazing phase of the story—a spy give himself up to a high official of the State Department and nothing is done about it for ten years. When Chambers went to A. A. Berle, Jr., in 1939, he, in effect, gave himself up. But the government did not want him. It took him 10 years to tell his story—the 10 most crucial years in American history, the years of war and defeat.

What Whittaker Chambers's book, "Witness," conclusively proves to me is that youth, having lost its way, seeks grand adventure.

And what can be more adventuresome than secretly trying to change the whole world all alone?

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

THE PATIENT PAST FIFTY

"The practitioner of medicine, by studying the natural history of disease in his aging patients and by using in their treatment the fruits of medical investigation and knowledge, is able to defer many of the chronic diseases that are erroneously attributed to old age. Thus he can actively share in the chief task of medicine during the coming generation—the extension of the human life span."

I am quoting from the preface of "The Treatment of the Patient Past Fifty," by Dr. Ernest P. Boas, Chairman, Committee on Chronic Illness, Welfare Council, New York City, and assistant clinical professor of medicine, Columbia University.

Dr. Boas further points out that the average expectation of life is now 66 years and that application of our knowledge of medicine and hygiene and the treatment of disease should make it possible to extend the average span of life to about 75 years. Future medical discoveries may extend this by many years.

For years most of us have looked on aging as a terminal process, as a running down or wearing out of the organism, as a final tissue and organ deterioration preceding death. Dr. Boas states that this is not correct, that aging is but a part of the whole cycle of life. "Growth, differentiation, involution are but different phases of the life curve, manifesting themselves at different rates in different structures of the body. Changes occur during earlier life, and as a matter of fact, life processes and organ alterations proceed at a far more rapid pace in the young than in the old. After fifty, changes in the life curve are at their slowest."

The time curve of aging depends upon three factors: heredity, external environment and the internal environment of the body. The most important of these is heredity. Longevity is a family characteristic.

The human changes occurring with aging are: loss in height, loss in weight, failing eyesight, deafness for high tones, graying of the hair, loss of elasticity of the skin. None of these alterations of the structure and texture of the body are regarded as disease processes; none of them challenges or shortens the life span.

The most common diseases that bring on aging and death in persons over 65 years of age are: hardening of the blood vessels or the heart, brain and other parts of the body, high blood pressure, cancer of stomach and intestine, enlargement of the prostate gland in men, tuberculosis and street accidents.

Speaking of Cleanups

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Congressman Manny Celler's much-heralded investigation of baseball monopoly has labored mightily and now brought forth a mouse.

After rolling up 1,643 pages of testimony and exhibits to be released this week, and after hearing all sorts of witnesses, from Ty Cobb to Ford Frick, and from Pee Wee Reese of the Brooklyn Dodgers to Ned Garver of the St. Louis Browns, the Congressional committee takes a firm stand only on about three things:

1. The Pacific coast should not be denied major league baseball.

2. Players who bolt to Mexico or an independent league should not be blacklisted.

3. A monopoly does exist in baseball, but Congress is not going to legislate against it.

These conclusions are pretty well camouflaged in a mass of highsounding, legalistic phrases, in which the House Judiciary Committee daintily avoids any legislative action. In brief, the committee report spotlights some glaring evils in the great American sport, but side-steps doing anything about them.

Baseball's No. 1 Evil

Chairman Celler and his colleagues frankly admit the injustice of the notorious "reserve clause," sometimes called baseball's No. 1 evil. This enables a club owner to buy and sell players like chattels and binds a player to one team until the owner wants to release him for trading purposes.

"In the past the reserve clause has been employed as a 'war measure' to fight the development of competing leagues, something at the expense of individual players," says the Judiciary Committee report.

In simple language this means that a ball player can be barred for life from organized American baseball if he jumps to a team in Mexico offering him more money. It also means that the richer ball clubs can control the player market by making the highest offers to promising rookie players.

"Despite the tremendous popular interest in baseball," the report continues, "publicity itself does not afford a complete guarantee that the game will always be operated so as to serve the maximum public interest.

"While the public has recognized the need for important and affirmative changes—such as a revision of the major league baseball map, which would have taken place long ago if competition were baseball's only master—the men in control of the game have either resisted or been unable to make desirable changes."

However, the Brooklyn congressman and his legislators flatly decide in favor of the club owners by stating: "Professional baseball could not operate successfully and profitably without some form of reserve clause."

On the other hand, the congressmen duck the question of exempting baseball from the antitrust laws. Such exemption has been requested by the club owners who have viewed with alarm Justice Department moves to prosecute football for monopolizing radio and TV reports of their games.

"If blanket immunity (from the antitrust laws) were granted," the Celler committee concludes, "all appeals to the courts from a possible arbitrary decision by the rulers of professional baseball would be foreclosed.

"Club owners must act as partners as well as competitors," the Celler committee concludes. . . . Organized baseball has for years occupied a monopolistic position in the business of selling professional baseball exhibitions to the public and therefore has constituted substantially the only market for the services of high salaried professional baseball players."

This leaves baseball just about where it was—except that Congressman Celler has had a lot of fun bringing famous witnesses to Washington, and except that the Justice Department still has the power to move in on the club owners.

Liquor Lobbyists

The liquor lobby is mapping an all-out assault against high liquor taxes that will reach into every bar and cocktail dispensary in the nation. Barmen will be asked to mix lobbying with their drinks and appeal to tipplers the country over to rally behind the crusade against "prohibition by taxation."

The liquor industry is also prepared to spend millions for newspaper ads and pamphlets as part of the campaign to rouse the public against liquor taxes. Another technique will be to post price lists, tabulating the resale price and the taxes separately, to impress customers with how much of their liquor bill goes to Uncle Sam.

Despite all of this hullabaloo, most congressmen figure that the liquor boys can afford to pay even higher taxes. If they should manage to get off cheaper, however, the small taxpayer will be called upon to pay more out of his pocket to make up the difference.

Note — Congressman Herman Eberharter, Pennsylvania Democrat, has come to the aid of the liquor lobby by introducing a bill that would extend the period in which distillers may hold whiskey in bond before paying the federal excise tax. Under the present law, the distillers must pay the tax at the end of eight years whether the whiskey has been sold or not. Eberharter's bill would give the distillers another four years grace.

Today in Europe

Eisenhower Has Had Steady Procession of Important Visitors from Many Parts of World

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Paris, May 21—For several months now a steady stream of callers has come to the headquarters of General Eisenhower. Some have come to talk domestic politics and the burning issues of the hour in the United States. Others have come from the Far East and the Middle East and from other parts of Europe to tell the man many believe will hold high office the things they think he ought to know.

The general likes to talk to visitors. He sees an average of two or three a day and thus gets the benefit of up-to-date information on many aspects of national and international affairs. Many of the callers are honestly convinced that, if the general will do as they advise, he will be nominated and elected President of the United States.

But, amid the wide varieties of advice that are given to the general, it is apparent that some of the callers think of him in terms of an orthodox politician. They want him to step out of his accustomed character and habit and be something else. They are not winning on that point. For the general insists on being himself—an earnest, fair-minded individual who has a healthy respect for facts and for truth and who doesn't think craftiness and chicanery are a good substitute for directness and sincerity, whether in politics or anything else.

There are two schools of thought about his candidacy—those who think the general ought to come home and make an active campaign for delegates, and those who think he should make only two or three major speeches and that he should remain true to his concept that he doesn't wish to seek the nomination.

But if Eisenhower is nominated, he will, of course, make an active campaign. He will resign completely from the army. He will speak on the issues of the day, but again it will be surprising if he engages in clashes on detail. For he prefers to present the formula with which he believes all the complex issues of the day should be approached in a republic, and his mind runs toward wider and wider participation by the nation's best men and women leaders rather than to reliance on an increasing number of persons in what has sometimes been called a "permanent staff."

General Eisenhower is an excellent administrator. He believes in delegating authority to deputies, but he is mighty careful about selecting them. Curiously enough, his greatest hope is that he may contribute something constructive to the relations between the executive and legislative branches of the government. One says "curiously enough" because it might be thought that he would confine himself to administrative problems. On the contrary, General Eisenhower is interested in new ideas for improving the executive's relations with the legislative branch, and, if elected, he is much more likely to be consulting the members of Congress than has any President in recent years. Certainly the Democrats in both the Senate and House have complained that Mr. Truman did not take into account their evaluation and appraisal of public questions. If, for instance, they had been consulted, there would not have been any seizure of the steel properties without sanction of law.

General Eisenhower may not be as familiar with the detail of public controversies as many persons on the Washington scene would want him to be, but they forget that Franklin D. Roosevelt, who came from the governorship of New York, and Woodrow Wilson, who came from the governorship of New Jersey, had at the time they went to the White House a lot less knowledge of the current status of federal problems than General Eisenhower has today.

One thing the general brings with him on his return to the United States will have a profound effect on the American people—if he chooses to develop the theme which is closest to his heart. It is the manner in which Europe has been broken down from within by splinter parties, by factionalism, by the inordinate grasping for power on the part of rival groups. He can argue, perhaps more than anybody else, for the preservation of the two-party system, because of what he has seen of European politics. He can persuasively urge the necessity of turning out the present administration in Washington because it has lost the confidence of the people on major issues. When confidence is lost by bungling on domestic questions, the issues of foreign policy that ought to be treated in a nonpartisan way become the footballs of partisan politics.

So far as disagreement with the present regime in Washington is concerned, General Eisenhower doesn't feel that the American people want a president who thinks everything that has been done heretofore is wrong just because a Democrat has been president. By the same token, he doesn't think administration spokesmen are raising the level of political intelligence by saying that no man, however good, can be a good president on the Republican ticket because of the attitude which members of his party have taken in the past on various controversial issues. The general thinks this is a lot of poppycock and is inclined to feel the American people think so, too.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The defeatist propaganda to the effect that Senator Taft could not win the election if he were nominated was started by Republicans of little faith. The temptation to charge it to the Communists and the Roosevelt-Truman conspirators who are backing the Eisenhower boom must be rejected. However, the most important fact today is the fact that Taft and the southern rebels made Harry Truman throw in the towel before a blow was struck.

This decision was made for personal reasons. Truman is a vain man who realized that if he ran he would be in for a licking. He is a consummate politician of the most sordid type who understood better than most of us amateurs that the man who would beat him would be the man for whom he had openly expressed sneering contempt. Truman could take a beating from General Eisenhower with fair grace because, after all, he had offered Ike the nomination long ago. Thus he could have left an impression that he had actually put over his own successor. The situation would have been comparable to the relation between Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft in 1908 when T.R., who had the royal feeling no less than his distant cousin, letf Taft in charge of the White House as a sort of caretaker.

As long as Truman was an active candidate those Republicans who were afraid that Taft couldn't win had an excuse for their timidity. Not a reason, but an excuse. They remembered the little man's savage and vulgar campaign against Dewey in 1948 which began with a special session of the 80th Congress called for no legitimate Constitutional reason but only to provide him with a forum for his opening speech. Truman was a dirty fighter with a wide streak of Huey Long in him. The Republicans, who were afraid to match Taft against him, had a mental picture of a nasty little blackguard belting an intellectual gentleman into confusion with irrelevant flippancies and wild lies, such as his statement that the Taft law had been designed by enemies of labor to enslave the working people.

But, as I say, Truman is out of the problem now. You may choose your own reason for his decision to duck the fight. I think his cunning political sense warned him that Taft would get the Republican nomination and would rip his tripes out in a toe-to-toe contest. The southern rebellion undoubtedly had weight with him, but the effect of that was to weaken him and make Taft's victory even more probable. Knowing Taft better than most Americans do, I have never shared the false impression that he was not game. He, and his wife, too, showed great moral and physical courage in walking right through gangs of snarling, jeering, cursing pickets of the CIO in previous campaigns. He does not blow up. His timing is precise. And Truman knew in his heart that here was an opponent far different from the over-confident, supercilious Tom Dewey who boxed his own shadow in 1948 and never laid a glove on his adversary.

In other words, although too many Republicans showed a disgraceful lack of guts in running out on the man who is by far the best man in either party, Truman secretly realized that with Dixie gone from his support, Taft would give him a terribly humiliating licking. You may insist that Truman is a game fighter but does a game fighter quit before the opening bell? No man who has been president enjoys leaving the White House as a loser. Even Herbert Hoover, whose mind and soul are above the comprehension of all but a few of our elite, felt twinges of personal hurt among his more important sensations when, at last, decorum compelled him to ride all the way from the Capitol to the White House at the side of the grimacing fraud who had won his election by a campaign of false promises soon to be totally repudiated.

So it has not been Taft whose belly for a fight is wanting. The yellow streak showed up in his "friends," who wanted Eisenhower, not because they thought he would make a better president but because they thought he could win and Taft couldn't.

Now who is it that Taft can't lick?

Kefauver? The senator's reputation is based on a law against slot machines and an expose of corruption already notorious in

REDS BLACKMAILING HUMANITY

A new United Nations survey of world economic and social conditions indirectly serves to measure the magnitude of communism's crime against men of this age.

While the survey found that a third of the globe's total population was making significant strides toward higher living standards, it concluded that the other two-thirds is fighting a losing battle against hunger, poor housing, ignorance and general poverty.

Communism, if you recall the advertisements from the Kremlin and assorted branch offices, is supposed to be a cure for all the ailments of modern-day humanity. Communism is supposed to be the people's friend.

No one would pretend that if there were no Moscow-directed communism all the ills of the world would thereby be solved and upwards of two billion people would be enjoying a high standard of living.

Yet it is a dismal fact that the United States and many other free nations are pouring billions of dollars annually into armaments, using up steel and other substances and commandeering the skills of millions of men. All these materials and all these talents could obviously be put to far better purpose improving the lot of Americans, of Europeans, indeed, of all mankind.

We and the rest of the West are not in the category marked by the UN as fighting a losing battle with poverty. But our technical knowledge, our machinery, our chemicals and fertilizers and other materials could be at work right now on a considerable scale combatting the handicaps of the unfortunate two-thirds.

The UN discovered there is today 6 per cent less food in the world than before World War II, even though there are millions more mouths to feed. Supplies have declined most sharply in areas where they are most needed —as in the Far East. If you could ask the Chinese under Communist rule, what would they say of the blessings brought by "benevolent" communism?

The housing problem is universal, but it is naturally much worse in under-developed regions. In these, an estimated 150 million families need new homes; in more advanced areas, the figure is 30 million. A study of 17 European nations showed that if pre-war construction rates were doubled, it would take an average of 22 years to meet housing needs. Yet nowhere are such building rates possible.

That they are not is due to great part to communism. Our prime task today is not to advance ourselves and the world along the road of human betterment, but to prevent the gains we have already made from being destroyed. We must defend ourselves against a program of conquest which masquerades as a revolution of the people.

Even in backward countries, progress will be made in time despite the Kremlin's menace. But how much more could be done if we were free to focus our energies on building for peace instead of for possible war.

Every tank built by the free nations, every gun, every plane is an evidence that the Russians are blackmailing humanity, sucking out substance that should be thrown into the fight for the uplifting of men's lives. To offer this blackmail as the solvent for human ills is to perpetrate the greatest fraud in history.

A new biography of Wendell Willkie entitled "Wendell Willkie, 1892-1944," will be of interest to those who remember his sudden and somewhat sensational arrival on the political scene in 1940. The author is Mary Earheart Dillion, chairman of the Department of Political Sciences at Queens University. As the subject for a biography Willkie is interesting indeed.

Going to Congress is getting to be a habit in the Bolton family of Cleveland. The recent state primary had one unprecedented outcome, the simultaneous nomination for Congress of a mother and son. Mrs. Frances P. Bolton has represented a Northern Ohio district in the House since 1940. She then succeeded her husband, who had served for several years. She was renominated at the primary, and at the same time her son, Oliver P. Bolton, was made the Republican candidate in an adjoining district which is expected to be safe for the party.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

An autobiography is the most difficult of all literary designs and few of them have survived the centuries. Herbert Hoover, in the second volume of his autobiography, "The Memoirs of Herbert Hoover," says of this:

"Four of the 32 Presidents of the United States have ventured into the field of autobiography. They were John Quincy Adams, Ulysses S. Grant, Theodore Roosevelt, and Calvin Coolidge. The diaries of James K. Polk also possibly belong in this category. . . .

"Every autobiography has a major justification. It presents the participation of an individual among forces and events which, if recorded, contributes pieces of mosaic to the historian. From these pieces he creates great murals of human experience—with the hope that they will illuminate the way of human progress."

Whittaker Chambers has written an autobiography, entitled "Witness," a segment of which has already been published in "The Saturday Evening Post." The prefatory letter to his children has been read on the radio and television and is known to millions of Americans.

The autobiography is important from two standpoints:

This is the story of hundreds, if not thousands of young Americans who, during the years of the Depression, found themselves utterly bewildered by the circumstances of the moment. The Depression left them without hope and prospect. Having been reared in a secular environment, their faith in existing institutions stood on sand; they turned to Karl Marx as the prophet of the future.

The sensitive youth is rarely appreciated in his own environment where often ridicule is the response to the challenge of his differing personality. Thus, many of our young people, in those years, were caught in the frigidity of a loneliness which drove them to the excitement of changing the world—changing it fast.

Whittaker Chambers is one of these thousands of young men and women. Some became Communists; some became spies; some became "leftists," which is a round term for disagreement with the state of the world as it is. In an earlier period, such young people might have become missionaries, settlement workers, labor leaders, muckraking journalists, fighters for causes.

Chambers is an extremely sensitive, artistic person who lives in philosophy and music and a love for life. And he did not find it in the life of the years of the depression in the world of his youth. His search was for a way to change the world by his own efforts with the sureness that it had to be changed.

His autobiography will be read as a fascinating story, but I do not think of his book as the story of a man but as clinical report on a generation that went wrong. We need not limit our criticism of that generation to the Communists; even those who are not Communists often lack the spiritual values which sustained this nation for three centuries, but which we are losing. I often wonder what our children are being taught and why we blame them for not knowing what no one has exposed to them in their formative years. A tree will not be stronger than its roots.

Chambers became a spy against his own country. He did not spy for pay; he spied to change the world. His labors brought him poverty. When he realized the enormity of his crime, he did not change over to gain wealth by writing a book or to go on a lecture tour. He chose loneliness and poverty. Desperate for bread, he was rescued by a job on "Time," but he was not converted for a job. He was converted because his soul demanded it.

When he exposed himself, the statute of limitations did not apply. This is an amazing phase of the story—a spy give himself up to a high official of the State Department and nothing is done about it for ten years. When Chambers went to A. A. Berle, Jr., in 1939, he, in effect, gave himself up. But the government did not want him. It took him 10 years to tell his story—the 10 most crucial years in American history, the years of war and defeat.

What Whittaker Chambers's book, "Witness," conclusively proves to me is that youth, having lost its way, seeks grand adventure.

And what can be more adventuresome than secretly trying to change the whole world all alone?

THE PATIENT PAST FIFTY

"The practitioner of medicine, by studying the natural history of disease in his aging patients and by using in their treatment the fruits of medical investigation and knowledge, is able to defer many of the chronic diseases that are erroneously attributed to old age. Thus he can actively share in the chief task of medicine during the coming generation—the extension of the human life span."

I am quoting from the preface of "The Treatment of the Patient Past Fifty," by Dr. Ernest P. Boas, Chairman, Committee on Chronic Illness, Welfare Council, New York City, and assistant clinical professor of medicine, Columbia University.

Dr. Boas further points out that the average expectation of life is now 66 years and that application of our knowledge of medicine and hygiene and the treatment of disease should make it possible to extend the average span of life to about 75 years. Future medical discoveries may extend this by many years.

For years most of us have looked on aging as a terminal process, as a running down or wearing out of the organism, as a final tissue and organ deterioration preceding death. Dr. Boas states that this is not correct, that aging is but a part of the whole cycle of life. "Growth, differentiation, involution are but different phases of the life curve, manifesting themselves at different rates in different structures of the body. Changes occur during earlier life, and as a matter of fact, life processes and organ alterations proceed at a far more rapid pace in the young than in the old. After fifty, changes in the life curve are at their slowest."

The time curve of aging depends upon three factors: heredity, external environment and the internal environment of the body. The most important of these is heredity. Longevity is a family characteristic.

The human changes occurring with aging are: loss in height, loss in weight, failing eyesight, deafness for high tones, graying of the hair, loss of elasticity of the skin. None of these alterations of the structure and texture of the body are regarded as disease processes; none of them challenges or shortens the life span.

The most common diseases that bring on aging and death in persons over 65 years of age are: hardening of the blood vessels or the heart, brain and other parts of the body, high blood pressure, cancer of stomach and intestine, enlargement of the prostate gland in men, tuberculosis and street accidents.

Speaking of Cleanups

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Congressman Manny Celler's much-heralded investigation of baseball monopoly has labored mightily and now brought forth a mouse.

After rolling up 1,643 pages of testimony and exhibits to be released this week, and after hearing all sorts of witnesses, from Ty Cobb to Ford Frick, and from Pee Wee Reese of the Brooklyn Dodgers to Ned Garver of the St. Louis Browns, the Congressional committee takes a firm stand only on about three things:

1. The Pacific coast should not be denied major league baseball.

2. Players who bolt to Mexico or an independent league should not be blacklisted.

3. A monopoly does exist in baseball, but Congress is not going to legislate against it.

These conclusions are pretty well camouflaged in a mass of highsounding, legalistic phrases, in which the House Judiciary Committee daintily avoids any legislative action. In brief, the committee report spotlights some glaring evils in the great American sport, but side-steps doing anything about them.

Baseball's No. 1 Evil

Chairman Celler and his colleagues frankly admit the injustice of the notorious "reserve clause," sometimes called baseball's No. 1 evil. This enables a club owner to buy and sell players like chattels and binds a player to one team until the owner wants to release him for trading purposes.

"In the past the reserve clause has been employed as a 'war measure' to fight the development of competing leagues, something at the expense of individual players," says the Judiciary Committee report.

In simple language this means that a ball player can be barred for life from organized American baseball if he jumps to a team in Mexico offering him more money. It also means that the richer ball clubs can control the player market by making the highest offers to promising rookie players.

"Despite the tremendous popular interest in baseball," the report continues, "publicity itself does not afford a complete guarantee that the game will always be operated so as to serve the maximum public interest.

"While the public has recognized the need for important and affirmative changes—such as a revision of the major league baseball map, which would have taken place long ago if competition were baseball's only master—the men in control of the game have either resisted or been unable to make desirable changes."

However, the Brooklyn congressman and his legislators flatly decide in favor of the club owners by stating: "Professional baseball could not operate successfully and profitably without some form of reserve clause."

On the other hand, the congressmen duck the question of exempting baseball from the antitrust laws. Such exemption has been requested by the club owners who have viewed with alarm Justice Department moves to prosecute football for monopolizing radio and TV reports of their games.

"If blanket immunity (from the antitrust laws) were granted," the Celler committee concludes, "all appeals to the courts from a possible arbitrary decision by the rulers of professional baseball would be foreclosed.

"Club owners must act as partners as well as competitors," the Celler committee concludes. . . . Organized baseball has for years occupied a monopolistic position in the business of selling professional baseball exhibitions to the public and therefore has constituted substantially the only market for the services of high salaried professional baseball players."

This leaves baseball just about where it was—except that Congressman Celler has had a lot of fun bringing famous witnesses to Washington, and except that the Justice Department still has the power to move in on the club owners.

The liquor lobby is mapping an all-out assault against high liquor taxes that will reach into every bar and cocktail dispensary in the nation. Barmen will be asked to mix lobbying with their drinks and appeal to tipplers the country over to rally behind the crusade against "prohibition by taxation."

The liquor industry is also prepared to spend millions for newspaper ads and pamphlets as part of the campaign to rouse the public against liquor taxes. Another technique will be to post price lists, tabulating the resale price and the taxes separately, to impress customers with how much of their liquor bill goes to Uncle Sam.

Despite all of this hullabaloo, most congressmen figure that the liquor boys can afford to pay even higher taxes. If they should manage to get off cheaper, however, the small taxpayer will be called upon to pay more out of his pocket to make up the difference.

Note — Congressman Herman Eberharter, Pennsylvania Democrat, has come to the aid of the liquor lobby by introducing a bill that would extend the period in which distillers may hold whiskey in bond before paying the federal excise tax. Under the present law, the distillers must pay the tax at the end of eight years whether the whiskey has been sold or not. Eberharter's bill would give the distillers another four years grace.

He will speak on the issues of the day, but again it will be surprising if he engages in clashes on detail. For he prefers to present the formula with which he believes all the complex issues of the day should be approached in a republic, and his mind runs toward wider and wider participation by the nation's best men and women leaders rather than to reliance on an increasing number of persons in what has sometimes been called a "permanent staff."

General Eisenhower is an excellent administrator. He believes in delegating authority to deputies, but he is mighty careful about selecting them. Curiously enough, his greatest hope is that he may contribute something constructive to the relations between the executive and legislative branches of the government, One says "curiously enough" because it might be thought that he would confine himself to administrative problems. On the contrary, General Eisenhower is interested in new ideas for improving the executive's relations with the legislative branch, and, if elected, he is much more likely to be consulting the members of Congress than has any President in recent years. Certainly the Democrats in both the Senate and House have complained that Mr. Truman did not take into account their evaluation and appraisal of public questions. If, for instance, they had been consulted, there would not have been any seizure of the steel properties without sanction of law.

General Eisenhower may not be as familiar with the detail of public controversies as many persons on the Washington scene would want him to be, but they forget that Franklin D. Roosevelt, who came from the governorship of New York, and Woodrow Wilson, who came from the governorship of New Jersey, had at the time they went to the White House a lot less knowledge of the current status of federal problems than General Eisenhower has today.

One thing the general brings with him on his return to the United States will have a profound effect on the American people—if he chooses to develop the theme which is closest to his heart. It is the manner in which Europe has been broken down from within by splinter parties, by factionalism, by the inordinate grasping for power on the part of rival groups. He can argue, perhaps more than anybody else, for the preservation of the two-party system, because of what he has seen of European politics. He can persuasively urge the necessity of turning out the present administration in Washington because it has lost the confidence of the people on major issues. When confidence is lost by bungling on domestic questions, the issues of foreign policy that ought to be treated in a nonpartisan way become the footballs of partisan politics.

So far as disagreement with the present regime in Washington is concerned, General Eisenhower doesn't feel that the American people want a president who thinks everything that has been done heretofore is wrong just because a Democrat has been president. By the same token, he doesn't think administration spokesmen are raising the level of political intelligence by saying that no man, however good, can be a good president on the Republican ticket because of the attitude which members of his party have taken in the past on various controversial issues. The general thinks this is a lot of poppycock and is inclined to feel the American people think so, too.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The defeatist propaganda to the effect that Senator Taft could not win the election if he were nominated was started by Republicans of little faith. The temptation to charge it to the Communists and the Roosevelt-Truman conspirators who are backing the Eisenhower boom must be rejected. However, the most important fact today is the fact that Taft and the southern rebels made Harry Truman throw in the towel before a blow was struck.

This decision was made for personal reasons. Truman is a vain man who realized that if he ran he would be in for a licking. He is a consummate politician of the most sordid type who understood better than most of us amateurs that the man who would beat him would be the man for whom he had openly expressed sneering contempt. Truman could take a beating from General Eisenhower with fair grace because, after all, he had offered Ike the nomination long ago. Thus he could have left an impression that he had actually put over his own successor. The situation would have been comparable to the relation between Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft in 1908 when T.R., who had the royal feeling no less than his distant cousin, letf Taft in charge of the White House as a sort of caretaker.

As long as Truman was an active candidate those Republicans who were afraid that Taft couldn't win had an excuse for their timidity. Not a reason, but an excuse. They remembered the little man's savage and vulgar campaign against Dewey in 1948 which began with a special session of the 80th Congress called for no legitimate Constitutional reason but only to provide him with a forum for his opening speech. Truman was a dirty fighter with a wide streak of Huey Long in him. The Republicans, who were afraid to match Taft against him, had a mental picture of a nasty little blackguard belting an intellectual gentleman into confusion with irrelevant flippancies and wild lies, such as his statement that the Taft law had been designed by enemies of labor to enslave the working people.

But, as I say, Truman is out of the problem now. You may choose your own reason for his decision to duck the fight. I think his cunning political sense warned him that Taft would get the Republican nomination and would rip his tripes out in a toe-to-toe contest. The southern rebellion undoubtedly had weight with him, but the effect of that was to weaken him and make Taft's victory even more probable. Knowing Taft better than most Americans do, I have never shared the false impression that he was not game. He, and his wife, too, showed great moral and physical courage in walking right through gangs of snarling, jeering, cursing pickets of the CIO in previous campaigns. He does not blow up. His timing is precise. And Truman knew in his heart that here was an opponent far different from the over-confident, supercilious Tom Dewey who boxed his own shadow in 1948 and never laid a glove on his adversary.

In other words, although too many Republicans showed a disgraceful lack of guts in running out on the man who is by far the best man in either party, Truman secretly realized that with Dixie gone from his support, Taft would give him a terribly humiliating licking. You may insist that Truman is a game fighter but does a game fighter quit before the opening bell? No man who has been president enjoys leaving the White House as a loser. Even Herbert Hoover, whose mind and soul are above the comprehension of all but a few of our elite, felt twinges of personal hurt among his more important sensations when, at last, decorum compelled him to ride all the way from the Capitol to the White House at the side of the grimacing fraud who had won his election by a campaign of false promises soon to be totally repudiated.

So it has not been Taft whose belly for a fight is wanting. The yellow streak showed up in his "friends," who wanted Eisenhower, not because they thought he would make a better president but because they thought he could win and Taft couldn't.

Now who is it that Taft can't lick?

Kefauver? The senator's reputation is based on a law against slot machines and an expose of corruption already notorious in

YOU MUST OBEY WILD-CARD RULES

"How many wild cards are you allowed to meld with a pair," asks a Canton, Ohio, correspondent. "Some say that you may meld three wild cards with a pair, but others say that you can never use more wild cards than natural cards. What is the rule on this subject?"

You are allowed to have up to three wild cards with any meld at all. It doesn't matter how many natural cards you have in the meld, just so long as you have at least two of them.

Let me make it specific. Suppose you have a pair of kings. You may put those kings down with one wild card, or with two wild cards, or with three wild cards.

Suppose you have three kings. You may put them down without any wild cards at all, or with one wild card, or with two wild cards, or with three wild cards.

The same is true if you have four kings, or five kings, and so on. And, of course, the rule applies to queens, or jacks, or any other denomination.

This rule applies at any time in the hand—whether it is for your initial meld or later on. You are always allowed up to three wild cards in any meld.

Q—In a game of Samba I melded ace-king-queen of hearts, and my partner later melded ten-nine-eight of hearts. If I should draw a jack of hearts later in that hand, may I unite the two melds and complete the samba with the jack?

A—Yes. You are allowed to combine two sequences in this way in order to complete a samba. Note, however, that this is possible only when you combine two three-card sequences with a new card.. A samba may never include more than seven cards.

Q—In a game of Samba, the opponent at my right discards an eight of hearts. Am I allowed to take that card with three eights that are in my hand, and then meld that eight of hearts with a sequence? It is not a question of count, for the initial meld has already been made.

A—No. If you take a discarded eight with two or more eights from your hand, all of them must be melded as eights. You cannot use that discard in a sequence.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Bard College Continues Tree Planting Program

Annandale-on-Hudson, May 21—Bard College has just completed the planting of 4000 spruce and pine transplants and seedlings as a part of its conservation program started in 1948. The plan directed by Cal R. Avery, director of buildings and grounds, has been designed to utilize a large part of the college property between Route 9G and the Annandale Road which is not suitable for other purposes.

Four years ago with the assistance of members of the Bard College Volunteer Fire Department 1000 Scotch Pine seedlings were planted east of the college cemetery for a future windbreak and coverage and after 25 years as a source of lumber. One thousand White Pine seedlings were also planted that year along 9G. In 1950 the old orchard area along 9G was heavily planted with 5000 seedlings—2000 White Pine, 2000 Norway Spruce, and 1000 European Larch. Both lumber and the Christmas tree trade are projected future uses over a period of 25 years.

This year 1000 additional Norway Spruce and 500 White Pine seedlings were planted in the area east of the cemetery. The other 2500 trees—all three-year old White Spruce transplants—were put in south of the old Sands House east of the Annandale Road.

Casey's Body Found

Hudson, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—The body of a 40-year-old man who disappeared from a motorboat crossing the Hudson river was recovered here last night. Coroner Dewey Lawrence of Columbia county said Wilber Casey of New Baltimore apparently was drowned, but he withheld a verdict pending an autopsy. Casey's body was found by his brothers, Edward and Michael, in 30 feet of water near a dock. Police Chief John J. Sullivan said Casey and three companions left Athens, on the west shore, Sunday night. His companions said that when the boat reached the east shore Casey was not aboard, Sullivan said.

German Clothing Group to Study At Bard College

Annandale-on-Hudson, May 21—A six member team of German clothing trade union and management representatives will arrive at Bard College this week to commence a six-week study-travel program sponsored by the Mutual Security Agency and directed by Dr. Adolf Sturmthal, professor of economics at the college.

The purpose of the visit is to study methods by which American workers have come to accept the idea of greater productivity. It is hoped that if these representatives are persuaded that productivity is an accepted and highly respected doctrine throughout U. S. industry and that benefits accrue to the worker as well as to management, they will be able to influence German trade unions to adopt similar attitudes.

Will Stay Through Month

The group will remain at Bard until the end of May undertaking an intensive study of American institutions including labor, industry, and education. Special emphasis will be given to problems of management engineering, collective bargaining, and union organization. Lecturers will include members of the Bard faculty as well as union and management representatives from the clothing industry.

Trips are planned during this period to local industrial centers including Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Newburgh, Garnersville, and Firthcliff. Special conferences are also being arranged with local union officials and management representatives.

On June 1 the group will leave Bard to travel for three weeks through New England, the middle west and the south to observe various textile plants, and will return to New York city June 28 for a few days prior to returning to Germany.

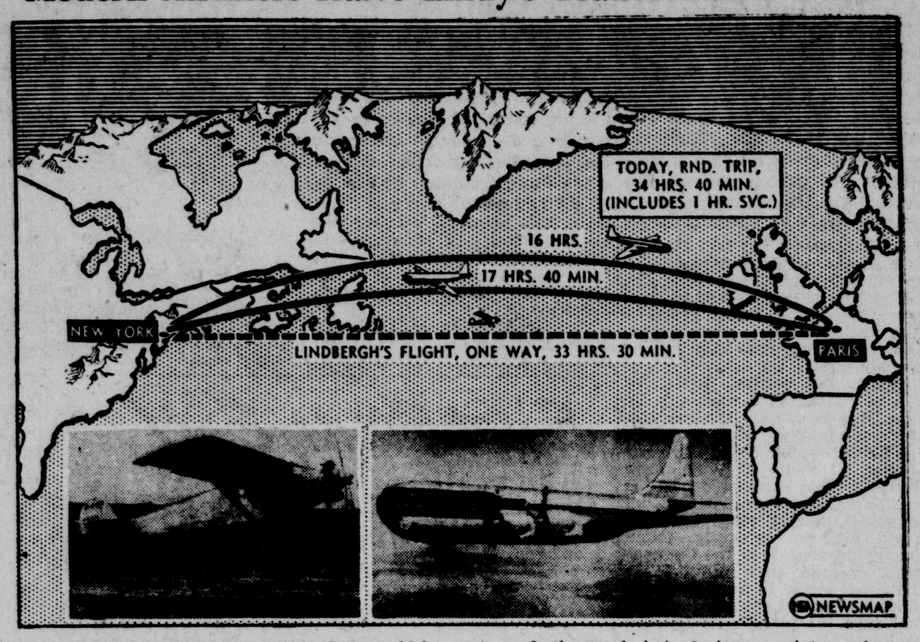
Modern Airliners Halve Lindy's Trans-Atlantic Time



Newsmap above points up a fact that would have stunned the curly-haired Army aviator who, on May 21, 1927, set his tiny one-engine Wright Whirlwind down on Paris' Le Bourget airstrip: that men would one day hurdle the ocean in less than half the time it took Charles Lindbergh and his Spirit of St. Louis, pictured at left, to make the first non-stop trans-Atlantic flight. As reported by Pan American Airways officials, a Boeing Strato-cruiser (picture at right), carrying 61 passengers, can fly from New York to Paris (top heavy line), take on new passengers, and make the return flight to New York (bottom heavy line) in 34 hours and 40 minutes, only one hour and 10 minutes longer than it took the Lone Eagle with his cargo of five sandwiches to make the the one-way flight indicated by broken line.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Business Group To Name Slate

Woodstock, May 20—The regular monthly meeting of the Woodstock Business Association was held Monday night at the Woodstock Town House. A report was received from the committee in charge of the dinner to welcome the Woodstock branch of the Bank of Orange County. All members of committees and those who assisted were thanked.

Following the receipt of a letter from the Community War Memorial concerning a request for funds, it was voted to send a contribution.

A report was submitted by the nominating committee, which contained the name of ten members who will constitute the board of directors for the 1952-53 season. These names are now being sent to members and elections will be held at the June meeting. Within 10 days after the directors are elected, the directors will meet and choose a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

The committee on promotion and advertising rendered its report and recommendations in connection with advertising on the radio and three local newspapers. A resolution was passed setting up a certain amount which will be used at the discretion of the committee for promoting the Woodstock Business Association in particular and Woodstock in general, with particular preference given to the fact that the Woodstock stores will be open on Friday nights until 9 p. m. this week. Members of the committee are Karl Cousins, chairman, Mordy Berkowitz, Hilda Lightstone, Gordon Anderson, William Mower and the board of directors.

The motion was made to transfer immediately the Woodstock Business Association bank account to the Woodstock branch of the Bank or Orange County.

The application of the Woodstock Artists Association to become a member of the Woodstock Business Association was passed.

It was suggested that the association commend the Catskill Book and Record Shop on the establishment which has recently been completed. The owners were particularly complimented on their good taste and dignity and members of the association wished them luck in their venture.

The ancients thought sulphur was a symbol of hell because its fumes had a suffocating, choking effect when it was burned.

As Pegler Sees It

the New York city stronghold of his own party. As a practical proposition, if Taft were allowed to pick the man he could lick with the least risk, Kefauver would have to be his choice. Harriman? His guilt in the creation of the Russian menace disposes of him. He will never be nominated. Russell? The fact that he is a southerner is almost enough to eliminate him. But few citizens north of the line and west of the Mississippi had ever heard of him until his little boom began.

And we must note that he has already crossed up Harry Byrd, of Virginia, the original leader of this new rebellion in the south, by promising to support the fair employment proposal if it goes into the platform. Byrd and Governor Byrnes, of South Carolina, have declared their absolute opposition to this flagrantly unconstitutional proposal brought forth by New York plotters generally found among the friends of the Communists. I think they meant it, so if Russell yields to the New York influence his old southern friends will turn his picture toward the wall.

Until he dogged it, showing the ki-yi that few suspected, even among his enemies, Truman was the only Democrat that Taft's weak-kneed friends were afraid of. Now that Truman is out of it, what excuse have such people for insisting that, second-rater though he is, they still like Ike?

Final Plan Clinic Set for Thursday

Chester A. Baltz, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce Community Development Committee, extends a special invitation to all persons interested in area planning. "The clinics or seminars have provided us with a great deal of basic information and the legal aspects of community planning," Baltz said. "We would have liked to see a larger attendance, but those who attended the previous sessions were vitally interested and expressed appreciation for the information obtained."

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Britt have returned to their home in the Maverick for the summer, after playing with the Minneapolis Symphony for the winter season. In the spring they went on tour with the orchestra to the West and Canadian Northwest. Mrs. Britt, who is well-known to Maverick concert audiences as Cynthia Eddy, was a member of a new string quartet this winter which presented a series of chamber music concerts during the winter in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker entertained at her annual wisteria party last Saturday afternoon at her home on Schoonmaker Lane. Among the guests were Alexander Semmler, recently returned from Europe engaged in preparing musical programs for the Voice of America, Mrs. Orestes Cleveland, Mrs. William Shirey, Miss Anne Carolan, Mrs. Freida Schuetz, Miss Katrina Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Edwards, Miss Elsa Kimball, Mrs. Margaret R. Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wagenfohr, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mele and their son Andre.

The ancients thought sulphur was a symbol of hell because its fumes had a suffocating, choking effect when it was burned.

As Pegler Sees It

the New York city stronghold of his own party. As a practical proposition, if Taft were allowed to pick the man he could lick with the least risk, Kefauver would have to be his choice. Harriman? His guilt in the creation of the Russian menace disposes of him. He will never be nominated. Russell? The fact that he is a southerner is almost enough to eliminate him. But few citizens north of the line and west of the Mississippi had ever heard of him until his little boom began.

And we must note that he has already crossed up Harry Byrd, of Virginia, the original leader of this new rebellion in the south, by promising to support the fair employment proposal if it goes into the platform. Byrd and Governor Byrnes, of South Carolina, have declared their absolute opposition to this flagrantly unconstitutional proposal brought forth by New York plotters generally found among the friends of the Communists. I think they meant it, so if Russell yields to the New York influence his old southern friends will turn his picture toward the wall.

Until he dogged it, showing the ki-yi that few suspected, even among his enemies, Truman was the only Democrat that Taft's weak-kneed friends were afraid of. Now that Truman is out of it, what excuse have such people for insisting that, second-rater though he is, they still like Ike?

Final Plan Clinic Set for Thursday

The fourth and last of the series of Community Planning Clinics, sponsored jointly by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and the Lake Katrine Grange will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Grange Hall at Lake Katrine. The principal speaker will be Dr. George B. Robinson, director of the Planning Bureau of the State Department of Commerce. The public is invited to attend.

Chester A. Baltz, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce Community Development Committee, extends a special invitation to all persons interested in area planning. "The clinics or seminars have provided us with a great deal of basic information and the legal aspects of community planning," Baltz said. "We would have liked to see a larger attendance, but those who attended the previous sessions were vitally interested and expressed appreciation for the information obtained."

Episcopal Parley Rejects Move as Inimical to Melish

Garden City, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—The 85th annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Long Island has turned aside a move that might have threatened the position of the Rev. William Howard Melish in Brooklyn.

Melish's alleged left-wing activities have been the basis of a controversy in the diocese for several years.

He has been conducting services at the Holy Trinity Church, Brooklyn, for more than a year, following the 1949 ouster of his father, the Rev. Dr. John Howard Melish, as rector.

Bishop James P. deWolfe removed the elder Melish for refusal to curb the outside activities of his son and assistant rector.

Yesterday, a proposed revision of the canons that would have limited the power of a local church was tabled by a standing vote of the convention delegates.

Issue Not Forced

The wardens and vestrymen of Holy Trinity Church have not forced the issue with the bishop by picking a new rector. The younger Melish is acting minister. Appointment of a rector requires the bishop's approval.

The proposed amendment to the diocesan canons would have given the bishop the right to name a minister until such decision had been made by the wardens and vestrymen, after a pulpit had been left "vacant" for six months.

Bishop deWolfe, opposing the proposed amendment, told the convention delegates:

"I do not approve of this canon in its present form. * * * it is a matter that could be more readily handled by the general convention of this church."

The proposed revision had been presented by the Committee on Canons.

Child Health Clinic

A Child Health Conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the clinic rooms at 97 Broadway May 27 from 10 to 12 noon. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Since Puritans objected to May poles and other May Day celebrations, they were forbidden by the British parliament in 1644.

John Garfield, 39, Dies in New York

New York, May 21 (AP)—John Garfield, 39, stage and screen actor, was found dead of a heart ailment in his Gramercy Park apartment today.

Dr. Thomas Gonzales, chief medical examiner, reported the death.

Garfield was noted for his "tough guy" roles.

He gained fame on the stage for his portrayal of a boxer in the Clifford Odets play, "Golden Boy," in 1937.

He subsequently played gangster roles in Hollywood films and was starred in a number of Broadway productions.

Garfield, born Julius Garfinkle in Brooklyn, on March 4, 1913, engaged in a number of juvenile scrapes and became a protege of Angelo Patri, child psychologist and writer. Patri was credited with starting him on his theatrical career.

Used His Name

Garfield's name often was used by organizations later cited as subversive.

But when he was called before the House Committee on Un-American Activities a little more than a year ago he denied he ever had been a Communist.

"I am no Red," he insisted. "I am no Pink. I am no Fellow Traveller."

Denounces Communism

He denounced communism as tyranny and said he never even had met a single Communist.

He described himself as a Democratic party member and a political liberal.

His testimony produced conflicting opinions from committee members. Rep. Moulder, Missouri Democrat, said he was convinced Garfield was an "intensely loyal American citizen."

But Rep. Jackson, California Republican, told Garfield he was "not entirely convinced of the entire accuracy and cooperation you are giving this committee."

DIED

Memoriam

In memory of my beloved husband, John A. Carle, who died one year ago today, May 21, 1951.

"With You Always"

Beside the road he walks with me,
And if my step be slow,
He pauses waiting so that he
May lead me where I go.
I feel his presence at my side,
His hand upon my hair.
His love sweeps boundless like the tide,
About me everywhere.

Our eyes shed many a tear,
God alone only knows how we miss him

Colonel Meagher

Anna Clancy Meagher. He had lived in Kingston for the past 60 years, and served with local public schools for 54 years. He retired in June of 1946.

37 Years at School 5

After serving as principal of School No. 5 from 1900 until 1937, he was made the first principal of the MJM School. His long and brilliant career as a teacher began in his 16th year when he first taught in Whiteport. He later taught in Fish Creek, town of Saugerties, and then went to School No. 5 here.

His friends and colleagues observed that much of his success as a teacher was attributed to his kind and sympathetic understanding of the problems of his youthful charges, and to the sound and dependable advice he gave to both the children and their parents.

43 Years Military Man

Col. Meagher's military career spanned more than 43 years, partly with the regular army as an officer, and also in the reserve corps. In World War 1, he left Kingston as a major with Company M, and was soon advanced to the rank of colonel. He wound up his regular service as commanding officer at Ft. Brady, Mich.

Later he retained a strong interest in military affairs, and he was a staunch believer in preparedness. During World War 2 he again sought to enter the military service, but was not accepted because of his age. He served on the Ulster County Draft Board during World War 2, with the late Samuel Stern, and at the time of his death was chairman of the Kingston Draft Board.

50 Years in K. of C.

A faithful member of St. Joseph's Church, he belonged to its Holy Name Society, and he was an honorary life member of Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, and two years ago was presented with a 50-year pin at a testimonial held in the council chambers. He was also a member of the Fourth Degree Assembly, K. of C., and served as Faithful Navigator many years ago. He was a member of Kingston Post 150, American Legion and of the Company M Veterans Association.

Col. Meagher's first connection with the army dates back to 1898 when he was with the 114th Separate Company. He maintained an interest in the military steadily from that year. He had reached 43 years of military service in 1941. Three of his sons served with distinction during World War 2.

When Col. Meagher had observed his 70th birthday in April, 1946, just prior to his retirement, he had rounded out more than a half century of teaching.

Four Stores to Be Given New Fronts

At least four stores in the central Broadway sector will show new faces by the time the Broadway underpass is opened, it was learned today.

Anthony Saccoman, proprietor of Tony's Pizzeria, 582 Broadway, announced renovations of the front of his restaurant, that of the Ideal Tonsorial Shop, 580½ Broadway, and said renovations are under way in the empty store at 580 Broadway which will be opened as a jewelry store late in June.

Another store in the area is due for a new front in the near future, but its owner said today he was withholding announcement of plans until he is able to give full details.

Saccoman, who has conducted the restaurant at 582 Broadway since 1940, owns the other two store properties and that housing Ketterer's Bakery at 584 Broadway.

Litigation Grows From Explosion

Washington, May 21 (AP)—A maze of litigation has grown out of an ammunition explosion at South Amboy, N. J., May 19, 1950.

Justice Department lawyers said today they have not yet tabulated all the suits in which the government has been named a defendant. They said, however, that a rough estimate would be about 30 suits asking something over 30 million dollars.

The number of plaintiffs was estimated in the neighborhood of 13,000.

The explosion, which killed 31 persons, occurred as ammunition was being transferred from freight cars to barges preparatory to shipment to foreign buyers.

The Kilgore Manufacturing Co. of Newark, Ohio, which made the ammunition, is listed as a defendant in the main suit against the government. Other defendants include the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroads, and Healing and Son, Inc., which operated the barges.

Lab, Cars Are Burned

Philadelphia, May 2 (AP)—A half-million dollar fire destroyed a pharmaceutical laboratory today and wrecked 32 brand new automobiles in an adjoining warehouse. Raging out of control more than an hour, the blaze gutted a two-story brick building owned by the Lustgarten Laboratories, Inc. J. Kerbeck Co., which owned 32 Nash automobiles stored in the warehouse, said the machines were ruined by heat, smoke and water.

After customers griped for weeks on being served rice instead of scarce potatoes the proprietor of this Littleton, N. H., restaurant obtained 50 pounds of spuds out of a 500-pound order. Here's how he featured a baked potato for $1.39, with the rest of the dinner tossed in "free." Waitresses Rita Leonard and Julia MacDougall hold precious tubers.

Three Are Arrested At West Shore Station

Rondoups at the West Shore railroad station, staged almost weekly and sometimes daily by local police, netted three arrests yesterday.

One of the men in this catch, William Cizmar, 32, of Newark, N. J., had been arrested early Tuesday on North Front, near Wall street on a public intoxication charge for which he was given a 10-day suspended sentence in city court yesterday morning.

Cizmar was with two other men, Ernest Freeman, 46, of Rhinebeck, and Eugene Flanagan, 59, no home, when Officers Peter Camp and Frank Sammons visited the station at 1:27 p. m., yesterday. They were arrested on disorderly conduct charges.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today imposed the 10-day sentence on Cizmar and gave the others a suspended sentence of 30 days each with the warning that they were to get out of the city by noon.

Guard Announces Three Enlistments; One Repeater

Lieutenant Colonel Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion located at the State Armory on North Manor avenue, announced today three new enlistments and one re-enlistment were made Monday night.

Battery A of the local units, re-enlisted Donald E. Houghtaling, 21, son of Roy and Mary Winters Houghtaling of 67 Hinsdale street. He is a corporal and enlisted for another three years. He attended Kingston schools and is presently employed by the Ulster Knife Company of Ellenville. Cpl. Houghtaling is a wheeled vehicle mechanic and has served in this capacity since May 1948. He is qualified in the Carbine Cal. 30.

James Leonard Freer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Freer of 22 Oak street, enlisted in Headquarters Battery. Pvt. Freer is a student at Kingston High School in his senior year. He is majoring in a vocational course.

Harold Elwin Slater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Slater of Kerhonkson, enlisted in Headquarters Battery as a private. He is a former student of Kerhonkson High School and is presently employed by S. A. Healey Co. on construction work. He is 18 years of age and a native of Ellenville.

Burton Orville Giles, son of Sergeant Major and Mrs. Burton F. Giles of 100 Boulevard, enlisted in Headquarters Battery as a private. Pvt. Gile's father is the Battalion sergeant major of the 156th Field Artillery. He is a student in Kingston High in his sophomore year.

While enlistments are steadily increasing in the local Guard units, attractive vacancies still exists for qualified young men. Col. Harkin has extended a blanket invitation to all young men of military age to visit the Armory and get the facts about what the Guard can do for them.

Taft Wins 7 Votes

eral said he does not "aspire" to the GOP nomination.

Sure to Be Nominee

Sen. John Bricker told a reporter in Washington that his Ohio colleague, Taft, is sure to become the nominee if Eisenhower meant he would not actively seek nomination. But Sens. Irving Ives of New York and Fred Seaton of Nebraska, Eisenhower backers, said the statement does not mean the general will refuse to discuss major issues before the July 7 convention at Chicago.

Taft's 7 to 1 delegate victory over Eisenhower in Montana puts him ahead of the general 384 to 339 in the Associated Press tabulation of nationwide delegate strength.

At Montana's Democratic convention, also held yesterday at Helena, a 12-vote uninstructed delegation was named. Eight votes were uncommitted, two favored Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and one each favored Sens. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Robert Kerr of Oklahoma.

This puts Kefauver atop the Democratic delegate tally with 115, compared with 92½ for W. Averell Harriman of New York, mutual security director.

These tabulations are based on concessions, pledges, instructions and statements by delegates willing to say how they stand. GOP nomination requires 604 votes, Democratic 616.

Harriman criticized both Taft and Eisenhower at a Boston news conference yesterday. On hand for a labor meeting, Harriman told newsmen Eisenhower is inexperienced "on the domestic side" and said: "Taft and I disagree on practically every issue."

John Foster Dulles, GOP foreign affairs expert, hopped on President Truman in a speech at Hartford, Conn. Dulles said he doubts Truman fosters a bi-partisan foreign policy by saying it can only survive under a Democratic administration.

Presidency Is Clinched

Panama, Panama, May 21 (AP)—Panama's military strong man, Col. Jose Antonio Remon, apparently had clinched his country's presidency today. His chief opponent, charging fraud, petitioned the national election board to annual the May 11 voting. A preliminary count of the votes in almost two-thirds of the country's precincts—425 of 699—gave Remon 73,465 to 37,590 for Roberto F. Chiari.

Government to Sell Oil

Cairo (AP)—The Iraq cabinet has authorized the economy ministry to sell three million tons of crude oil, the Arab news agency reports. Iraq gets the crude oil under a royalty arrangement with the British-run Iraq Petroleum Co.

Bridges to Toss

outside the office building and along the corridors inside.

Smiling broadly under a glare of bright lights, the general shook hands with many senators and posed with many of them before motion picture and still cameras.

96 Chairs on Hand

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) welcomed Ridgway inside the small committee room.

Normally it is used by 13 armed services committeemen but 96 chairs were available today because all Senators had been invited.

About 30 were on hand when Ridgway arrived.

Ridgway is home during an interim between his shift from United Nations commander in the Far East to Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers in Europe.

Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, the Senate Republican leader, was primed with some questions for the four star general in his appearance before the Armed Services Committee and its guests.

Five Queries in Mind

Bridges, a member of the committee, said he wanted to question Ridgway about: (1) The Red prisoner-of-war uprising on Koje Island; (2) the military situation in Korea; (3) whether truce negotiations should continue; (4) his estimate of his new European command, and (5) how much this country can spend on defense and foreign aid.

Bridges also told a reporter he believed Ridgway should be given a temporary fifth star. He pointed out that the general has replaced two five-star generals, first Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan and now Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Europe.

In NATO, Ridgway will be outranked by two of his deputies, British Field Marshal Bernard L. Montgomery and French Field Marshal Alphonse Juin.

Bridges said the promotion should come from the President and the Pentagon.

The senator said he would ask Ridgway about policies in treatment of Communist prisoners of war in Korea that led to the much-criticized events on Koje Island.

Bridges demanded a Senate investigation after one U. S. general was captured by the Red prisoners and another signed an agreement with them to release the first. The agreement later was repudiated by Gen. Mark Clark, Ridgway's Far East successor.

Bridges said army secretary Pace had promised the Senate committee a full report on this from Clark, possibly by Thursday.

Sen. Cain (R.-Wash.), in a separate interview, said he served as an assistant chief of staff under Ridgway in "every airborne operation in Europe" during World War Two.

Cain, a reserve colonel in the army paratroopers, termed Ridgway "a great soldier" and suggested senators might do well to listen rather than ask questions in the necessarily brief session today.

Chairman Connally (D.-Tex.) has called a separate session of the Foreign Relations Committee with Ridgway Thursday.

"We want to ask him about things in Europe, not just about Koje Island," Connally told a reporter. "He's going over there on an all-important mission and so it should be helpful to him and the committee."

Beatty to Fight Sentence Given In Ulster Court

Victor Joseph Beatty, who was sentenced to Clinton State Prison at Dannemora as a second offender for a term of from three to six years, has applied to the County Court of Clinton county for a writ of habeas corpus alleging that he was erroneously sentenced to prison as a second offender.

That writ was returnable on May 10 and County Judge Sherlock E. Haley after hearing the application, denied the writ without prejudice for the relator to make application to the County Court of Ulster county for a correction of sentence.

Beatty, who along with another, was charged with having entered a store in Kingston and committed burglary. In court Beatty entered a plea of guilty to attempted burglary and was sentenced as a second offender. It was charged that he had a prior conviction in the state of Pennsylvania. Beatty now contends that the conviction in Pennsylvania did not constitute a felony within the meaning of the New York state law.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was notified today of the dismissal of the writ in Clinton county where Dannemora prison is located.

Beatty may now apply for a hearing in Ulster county for correction of sentence.

John Garfield, 39, Dies in New York

New York, May 21 (AP)—John Garfield, 39, stage and screen actor, was found dead of a heart ailment in his Gramercy Park apartment today.

Dr. Thomas Gonzales, chief medical examiner, reported the death.

Garfield was noted for his "tough guy" roles.

He gained fame on the stage for his portrayal of a boxer in the Clifford Odets play, "Golden Boy," in 1937.

He subsequently played gangster roles in Hollywood films and was starred in a number of Broadway productions.

Garfield, born Julius Garfinkle in Brooklyn, on March 4, 1913, engaged in a number of juvenile scrapes and became a protege of Angelo Patri, child psychologist and writer. Patri was credited with starting him on his theatrical career.

Used His Name

Garfield's name often was used by organizations later cited as subversive.

But when he was called before the House Committee on Un-American Activities a little more than a year ago he denied he ever had been a Communist.

"I am no Red," he insisted. "I am no Pink. I am no Fellow Traveller."

Denounces Communism

He denounced communism as tyranny and said he never even had met a single Communist.

He described himself as a Democratic party member and a political liberal.

His testimony produced conflicting opinions from committee members. Rep. Moulder, Missouri Democrat, said he was convinced Garfield was an "intensely loyal American citizen."

But Rep. Jackson, California Republican, told Garfield he was "not entirely convinced of the entire accuracy and cooperation you are giving this committee."

Memoriam

In memory of my beloved husband, John A. Carle, who died one year ago today, May 21, 1951.

"With You Always"

Beside the road he walks with me,
And if my step be slow,
He pauses waiting so that he
May lead me where I go.
I feel his presence at my side,
His hand upon my hair.
His love sweeps boundless like the tide,
About me everywhere.

WIFE.

Memoriam

In memory of our Daddy, John A. Carle.

Our hearts still ache with loneliness
Our eyes shed many a tear,
God alone only knows how we miss him
At the end of this very first year.

Colonel Meagher

Anna Clancy Meagher. He had lived in Kingston for the past 60 years, and served with local public schools for 54 years. He retired in June of 1946.

37 Years at School 5

After serving as principal of School No. 5 from 1900 until 1937, he was made the first principal of the MJM School. His long and brilliant career as a teacher began in his 16th year when he first taught in Whiteport. He later taught in Fish Creek, town of Saugerties, and then went to School No. 5 here.

His friends and colleagues observed that much of his success as a teacher was attributed to his kind and sympathetic understanding of the problems of his youthful charges, and to the sound and dependable advice he gave to both the children and their parents.

43 Years Military Man

Col. Meagher's military career spanned more than 43 years, partly with the regular army as an officer, and also in the reserve corps. In World War 1, he left Kingston as a major with Company M, and was soon advanced to the rank of colonel. He wound up his regular service as commanding officer at Ft. Brady, Mich.

Later he retained a strong interest in military affairs, and he was a staunch believer in preparedness. During World War 2 he again sought to enter the military service, but was not accepted because of his age. He served on the Ulster County Draft Board during World War 2, with the late Samuel Stern, and at the time of his death was chairman of the Kingston Draft Board.

50 Years in K. of C.

A faithful member of St. Joseph's Church, he belonged to its Holy Name Society, and he was an honorary life member of Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, and two years ago was presented with a 50-year pin at a testimonial held in the council chambers. He was also a member of the Fourth Degree Assembly, K. of C., and served as Faithful Navigator many years ago. He was a member of Kingston Post 150, American Legion and of the Company M Veterans Association.

Col. Meagher's first connection with the army dates back to 1898 when he was with the 114th Separate Company. He maintained an interest in the military steadily from that year. He had reached 43 years of military service in 1941. Three of his sons served with distinction during World War 2.

When Col. Meagher had observed his 70th birthday in April, 1946, just prior to his retirement, he had rounded out more than a half century of teaching.

Survivors Are Named

Surviving are his wife, the former Catherine O'Mara, four sons, Frank L. Meagher, Jr., of Elmhurst, N. Y., Donald, of Silver Springs, Md., and John C. and William J., both of Norfolk, Va., a daughter, Mrs. Oakleigh T. Cookingham, Jr., of Red Hook; two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Hamilton, and Mrs. Joseph E. Vigeant, of Red Hook, and four grandchildren.

Foley Praises Progress

New York, May 21 (AP)—Raymond M. Foley, federal housing and home finance agency administrator, yesterday praised the progress made in increasing the number of "non-segregation" housing projects. A message from Foley was read at the closing session of a two-day conference of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing and the New York State Committee on Discrimination in Housing. Foley reported that of 230 new projects being planned under the 1949 Housing Act, 42 per cent are for inter-racial occupancy on the voluntary decision of local authorities.

Four Stores to Be Given New Fronts

At least four stores in the central Broadway sector will show new faces by the time the Broadway underpass is opened, it was learned today.

Anthony Saccoman, proprietor of Tony's Pizzeria, 582 Broadway, announced renovations of the front of his restaurant, that of the Ideal Tonsorial Shop, 580½ Broadway, and said renovations are under way in the empty store at 580 Broadway which will be opened as a jewelry store late in June.

Another store in the area is due for a new front in the near future, but its owner said today he was withholding announcement of plans until he is able to give full details.

Saccoman, who has conducted the restaurant at 582 Broadway since 1940, owns the other two store properties and that housing Ketterer's Bakery at 584 Broadway.

Not Member Since 1950

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Playwright Lillian Hellman today told the House Un-American Activities Committee she is not a member of the Communist party and hasn't been for two years. But she refused to testify on her associations prior to that time. The gray-haired, husky voiced author also refused to answer all other questions on the grounds to do so might be self-incrimination.

Deegan Is Injured

Allen Edward Deegan, 18, of 219 Albany avenue, suffered a cut on the forehead when the car he was driving struck a pole at Albany and Tremper avenues last night. He was treated by a doctor. The police report at 9:28 p. m., said the car, headed west on Albany avenue, was making a left turn into Tremper avenue when it struck the pole. Officers William Hanley and James Harbeck investigated.

Litigation Grows From Explosion

Washington, May 21 (AP)—A maze of litigation has grown out of an ammunition explosion at South Amboy, N. J., May 19, 1950.

Justice Department lawyers said today they have not yet tabulated all the suits in which the government has been named a defendant. They said, however, that a rough estimate would be about 30 suits asking something over 30 million dollars.

The number of plaintiffs was estimated in the neighborhood of 13,000.

The explosion, which killed 31 persons, occurred as ammunition was being transferred from freight cars to barges preparatory to shipment to foreign buyers.

The Kilgore Manufacturing Co. of Newark, Ohio, which made the ammunition, is listed as a defendant in the main suit against the government. Other defendants include the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroads, and Healing and Son, Inc., which operated the barges.

Lab. Cars Are Burned

Philadelphia, May 2 (AP)—A half-million dollar fire destroyed a pharmaceutical laboratory today and wrecked 32 brand new automobiles in an adjoining warehouse. Raging out of control more than an hour, the blaze gutted a two-story brick building owned by the Lustgarten Laboratories, Inc. J. Kerbeck Co., which owned 32 Nash automobiles stored in the warehouse, said the machines were ruined by heat, smoke and water.

Spud Shortage Hits Potato Belt

After customers griped for weeks on being served rice instead of scarce potatoes the proprietor of this Littleton, N. H., restaurant obtained 50 pounds of spuds out of a 500-pound order. Here's how he featured a baked potato for $1.39, with the rest of the dinner tossed in "free." Waitresses Rita Leonard and Julia MacDougall hold precious tubers.

Three Are Arrested At West Shore Station

Rondoups at the West Shore railroad station, staged almost weekly and sometimes daily by local police, netted three arrests yesterday.

One of the men in this catch, William Cizmar, 32, of Newark, N. J., had been arrested early Tuesday on North Front, near Wall street on a public intoxication charge for which he was given a 10-day suspended sentence in city court yesterday morning.

Cizmar was with two other men, Ernest Freeman, 46, of Rhinebeck, and Eugene Flanagan, 59, no home, when Officers Peter Camp and Frank Sammons visited the station at 1:27 p. m., yesterday. They were arrested on disorderly conduct charges.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today imposed the 10-day sentence on Cizmar and gave the others a suspended sentence of 30 days each with the warning that they were to get out of the city by noon.

Guard Announces Three Enlistments; One Repeater

Lieutenant Colonel Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion located at the State Armory on North Manor avenue, announced today three new enlistments and one re-enlistment were made Monday night.

Battery A of the local units, re-enlisted Donald E. Houghtaling, 21, son of Roy and Mary Winters Houghtaling of 67 Hinsdale street. He is a corporal and enlisted for another three years. He attended Kingston schools and is presently employed by the Ulster Knife Company of Ellenville. Cpl. Houghtaling is a wheeled vehicle mechanic and has served in this capacity since May 1948. He is qualified in the Carbine Cal. 30.

James Leonard Freer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Freer of 22 Oak street, enlisted in Headquarters Battery. Pvt. Freer is a student at Kingston High School in his senior year. He is majoring in a vocational course.

Harold Elwin Slater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Slater of Kerhonkson, enlisted in Headquarters Battery as a private. He is a former student of Kerhonkson High School and is presently employed by S. A. Healey Co. on construction work. He is 18 years of age and a native of Ellenville.

Burton Orville Giles, son of Sergeant Major and Mrs. Burton F. Giles of 100 Boulevard, enlisted in Headquarters Battery as a private. Pvt. Gile's father is the Battalion sergeant major of the 156th Field Artillery. He is a student in Kingston High in his sophomore year.

While enlistments are steadily increasing in the local Guard units, attractive vacancies still exists for qualified young men. Col. Harkin has extended a blanket invitation to all young men of military age to visit the Armory and get the facts about what the Guard can do for them.

Taft Wins 7 Votes

eral said he does not "aspire" to the GOP nomination.

Sure to Be Nominee

Sen. John Bricker told a reporter in Washington that his Ohio colleague, Taft, is sure to become the nominee if Eisenhower meant he would not actively seek nomination. But Sens. Irving Ives of New York and Fred Seaton of Nebraska, Eisenhower backers, said the statement does not mean the general will refuse to discuss major issues before the July 7 convention at Chicago.

Taft's 7 to 1 delegate victory over Eisenhower in Montana puts him ahead of the general 384 to 339 in the Associated Press tabulation of nationwide delegate strength.

At Montana's Democratic convention, also held yesterday at Helena, a 12-vote uninstructed delegation was named. Eight votes were uncommitted, two favored Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and one each favored Sens. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Robert Kerr of Oklahoma.

This puts Kefauver atop the Democratic delegate tally with 115, compared with 92½ for W. Averell Harriman of New York, mutual security director.

These tabulations are based on concessions, pledges, instructions and statements by delegates willing to say how they stand. GOP nomination requires 604 votes, Democratic 616.

Harriman criticized both Taft and Eisenhower at a Boston news conference yesterday. On hand for a labor meeting, Harriman told newsmen Eisenhower is inexperienced "on the domestic side" and said: "Taft and I disagree on practically every issue."

John Foster Dulles, GOP foreign affairs expert, hopped on President Truman in a speech at Hartford, Conn. Dulles said he doubts Truman fosters a bi-partisan foreign policy by saying it can only survive under a Democratic administration.

Presidency Is Clinched

Panama, Panama, May 21 (AP)—Panama's military strong man, Col. Jose Antonio Remon, apparently had clinched his country's presidency today. His chief opponent, charging fraud, petitioned the national election board to annual the May 11 voting. A preliminary count of the votes in almost two-thirds of the country's precincts—425 of 699—gave Remon 73,465 to 37,590 for Roberto F. Chiari.

Government to Sell Oil

Cairo (AP)—The Iraq cabinet has authorized the economy ministry to sell three million tons of crude oil, the Arab news agency reports. Iraq gets the crude oil under a royalty arrangement with the British-run Iraq Petroleum Co.

Bridges to Toss

outside the office building and along the corridors inside.

Smiling broadly under a glare of bright lights, the general shook hands with many senators and posed with many of them before motion picture and still cameras.

96 Chairs on Hand

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) welcomed Ridgway inside the small committee room.

Normally it is used by 13 armed services committeemen but 96 chairs were available today because all Senators had been invited.

About 30 were on hand when Ridgway arrived.

Ridgway is home during an interim between his shift from United Nations commander in the Far East to Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers in Europe.

Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, the Senate Republican leader, was primed with some questions for the four star general in his appearance before the Armed Services Committee and its guests.

Five Queries in Mind

Bridges, a member of the committee, said he wanted to question Ridgway about: (1) The Red prisoner-of-war uprising on Koje Island; (2) the military situation in Korea; (3) whether truce negotiations should continue; (4) his estimate of his new European command, and (5) how much this country can spend on defense and foreign aid.

Bridges also told a reporter he believed Ridgway should be given a temporary fifth star. He pointed out that the general has replaced two five-star generals, first Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan and now Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Europe.

In NATO, Ridgway will be outranked by two of his deputies, British Field Marshal Bernard L. Montgomery and French Field Marshal Alphonse Juin.

Bridges said the promotion should come from the President and the Pentagon.

The senator said he would ask Ridgway about policies in treatment of Communist prisoners of war in Korea that led to the much-criticized events on Koje Island.

Bridges demanded a Senate investigation after one U. S. general was captured by the Red prisoners and another signed an agreement with them to release the first. The agreement later was repudiated by Gen. Mark Clark, Ridgway's Far East successor.

Bridges said army secretary Pace had promised the Senate committee a full report on this from Clark, possibly by Thursday.

Sen. Cain (R.-Wash.), in a separate interview, said he served as an assistant chief of staff under Ridgway in "every airborne operation in Europe" during World War Two.

Cain, a reserve colonel in the army paratroopers, termed Ridgway "a great soldier" and suggested senators might do well to listen rather than ask questions in the necessarily brief session today.

Chairman Connally (D.-Tex.) has called a separate session of the Foreign Relations Committee with Ridgway Thursday.

"We want to ask him about things in Europe, not just about Koje Island," Connally told a reporter. "He's going over there on an all-important mission and so it should be helpful to him and the committee."

Beatty to Fight Sentence Given In Ulster Court

Victor Joseph Beatty, who was sentenced to Clinton State Prison at Dannemora as a second offender for a term of from three to six years, has applied to the County Court of Clinton county for a writ of habeas corpus alleging that he was erroneously sentenced to prison as a second offender.

That writ was returnable on May 10 and County Judge Sherlock E. Haley after hearing the application, denied the writ without prejudice for the relator to make application to the County Court of Ulster county for a correction of sentence.

Beatty, who along with another, was charged with having entered a store in Kingston and committed burglary. In court Beatty entered a plea of guilty to attempted burglary and was sentenced as a second offender. It was charged that he had a prior conviction in the state of Pennsylvania. Beatty now contends that the conviction in Pennsylvania did not constitute a felony within the meaning of the New York state law.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was notified today of the dismissal of the writ in Clinton county where Dannemora prison is located.

Beatty may now apply for a hearing in Ulster county for correction of sentence.

Beauty Show Too Much

Wilmington, Calif., May 21 (AP) —Old Tug No. 10 was a real tough and harbor-worthy vessel. It had hauled in some pretty big ships in its day. Last Monday, however, No. 10 was cast in a new role—towing a floating barge for a style show, with a score of cuties traipsing the deck as they modeled swim suits, and bra and panty sets. This was just too much for old No. 10. After getting back to its dock it capsized and sank yesterday. "Too much pulchritude," said an old salt, pronouncing the third word very carefully.

U. S. Presbyterian Assembly Opens 2-Day Evangelism

New York, May 21 (AP) — Too many Christians are that in name only. They don't apply their creed sufficiently to the way they live and run their country.

This view was voiced repeatedly by ministerial and lay leaders at sessions prior to the opening of the 164th Annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

"We are making nothing like the impact on our time that the first Christians made on theirs," said the Rev. Robert J. McCracken, of New York's Riverside Church.

"We have failed to indicate the Christian to the problem of international relations, or to deal energetically with great social evils which lie like a blight upon man's common life."

More than 1,200 church leaders from throughout the country are here for a two-day conference on evangelism, which began yesterday.

Will Open Thursday

The General Assembly, top Presbyterian governing body, opens tomorrow.

At sessions yesterday and last night, there were these words about the effectiveness of Christianity in modern life.

Said the Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson, of Chicago, moderator of the General Assembly:

"The church has been sitting too long on a cushion, obsessed with gadgets. We need to reflect a new quality of life, of the animation of Christ."

Said Congressman Brooks Hays (D-Ark.):

"The Christian man must emerge from the house of faith into the area of the people. The influence of righteous men—the spiritual resources of the church —are our only hope in these fateful times."

'Appalling Evidence'

Said the Rev. John Sutherland Bonnell, of the Fifth Avenue (New York) Presbyterian Church—

"There is appalling evidence of corruption and venality throughout America. Materialism has eaten into the heart of our land. We have raised gods of iron, silver, gold and wood.  We need a great breath of God blowing through the nation."

McCracken, last night's principal speaker, said that although there now are 680 million Christians in the world, they have failed to make their voice as strong as the few Christians of ancient times.

"Have we lost what the first Christians had?" he asked. "Is our religion a dynamic force in us, or is it a formality?"

He suggested that a "large proportion" of modern Christians "are only conventionally Christian" and are "ignorant of what Christianity stands for in some cases, apathetic and indifferent in many more."

Hays said the country must be on guard against a "new isolationism"—the kind that would have the United States dominate the world.

He said "geographical isolationism is dead" but there has risen a new kind of "spiritual isolationism" which would withdraw this country from the councils of nations, and allow it to make global decisions without reference to the views of the allies.

This, he said, would undermine the free world's peace efforts.

"We must stand by our faith," he said, "and stand by our friends. We must not attempt to dominate the world."

Pray Together

Chicago, May 21 (AP)—Members of the American Baptist Convention and the International Convention of Disciples of Christ held an unprecedented joint meeting for prayers and hymns last night. The joint session was attended by more than 15,000 persons. The two groups plan to meet again tonight and in a joint communion service Thursday evening, but their leaders say there are no present plans to unite. Speaking for the disciples, the Rev. Hampton Adams, of Union Avenue Christian Church, St. Louis, told the meeting that "we are merely friends and . . . are not contemplating marriage."

TIRED JEEP DISMANTLED—A Japanese worker at Oppama Ordnance shops tears down a jeep for salvage under an Army Ordnance reclamation program called "Operation Roll Up." The operation has eliminated millions of dollars in war waste. Nearly 60,000 World War II vehicles have been brought to three installations in Japan, stripped, and then rebuilt piece by piece. Combat-worn vehicles from Korea are overhauled daily.

Bankruptcy Petition

New York, May 21 (Special)—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in United States District Court here today by Andrew A. Vena of Highland, a jeweler. The petition lists liabilities totaling $4,085, including $2,785 representing unsecured claims, and assets of $1,057, all stock in trade. Mr. Vena has been in business as A. Vena Jeweler, Inc., in Poughkeepsie.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Assemble at Hurley

The assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses will take place on June 13, 14 and 15 at the Hiller lots, Hillside avenue and Orchard street in Hurley.

The assembly previously had been planned on the village lot on Berme Road, Ellenville, but the Witnesses declare that the agreement previously made for the use of the Ellenville site was canceled by that village board. This has resulted, they say, in the cancellation of all business commitments made with the merchants of Ellenville for the housing and feeding of the 1,000 delegates expected.

According to the convention manager "the present location for the assembly is on the property of one of Jehovah's Witnesses whose word can be relied upon and where no written contract will be needed." The Hurley site was selected so that Ellenville will still serve as the center of activity and where the ministerial activities will be concentrated.

Pace Sees Army Mobilization Thing Of Indefinite Time

West Point, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—Army Secretary Frank Pace says "the current period of partial mobilization may well last indefinitely."

Pace adds that a peacetime army, within our generation, will be less than three or four times its prewar size," he told cadets of the United States Military Academy last night.

The army secretary addressed a dinner closing yesterday's jubilee convocation, the last major event in West Point's observance of the academy's 150th anniversary.

President Truman participated in the day-long activities but returned to Washington by train before the final dinner.

In an afternoon speech, Truman told the cadets he believed the free world was "well on the way" to preserving its freedom. However, he said "we must also be alert and ready to meet treachery or a renewal of aggression if that should come."

Departs From Text

Truman departed from his prepared text, omitting the reference to Russia's possession of the atom bomb in this passage:

"The forces of the Soviet Empire are large, well-trained, and equipped with modern weapons including the atom bomb. The Kremlin's desire to dominate the world is obviously unchanged."

No explanation for the change was given.

Pace told the future army officers that "we must prevent a war if possible" but must be prepared to "guide the nation to its fullest potential and strength."

"Our job today is to be better informed than the Soviets," he went on, "to use our men more effectively, to have a mobilization base capable of out-producing them, and most importantly to maintain our lead in new ideas.

"In doing so we must be prepared to fight a war if the Communists should start one."

Hundreds of American and foreign notables were here for the convocation. Among them were three Truman cabinet officers: top brass of the U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force: 13 foreign ambassadors, dozens of foreign attaches; and some 300 American and foreign college representatives.

Lifeguards Work, Too

Long Beach, Calif. (AP)—Long Beach lifeguards don't spend all their time sun bathing, charming pretty girls and saving an occasional floundering human. They also must record ocean temperatures and surf conditions. Each day, a guard takes three thermometer readings and a gander at the Pacific's mood from Long Beach's Horseshoe pier. Local newspapers and radio stations pass the information along to the public, says Roy J. (Dutch) Miller, lifeguard captain.

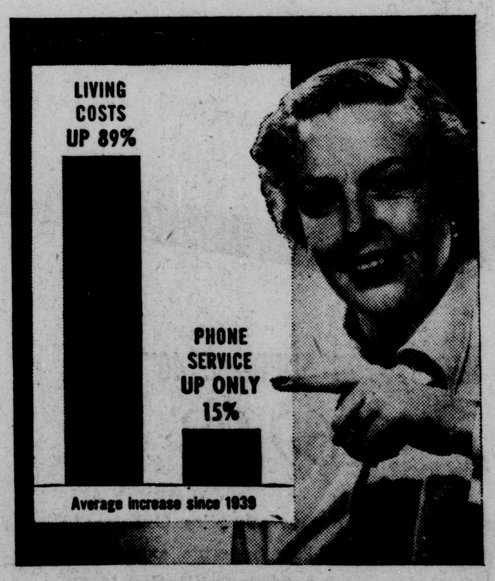
"TRADE WITH CAPPY AND BE HAPPY"

"That's all the cone your nickel will buy today, son!"



PHONE SERVICE BIG BARGAIN. Today's cost-of-living figure shows a jump of 89% since 1939. Yet telephone service for the average home has risen only 15% in this same period. It's one of today's best buys.

Even though your money looks the same, it buys only about half as much as it did in 1939.

That's because most things you buy have doubled in cost. Some have even tripled. But not your telephone! Today the price of telephone service for the average home is up only 15% since 1939, compared with an increase of 89% in the cost of living.

Yet for this slight increase, telephone service is a bigger buy than ever. Millions of phones have been added. Customers in the average community can call twice as many people without paying a toll charge. Operator toll dialing means faster service on thousands of long distance calls. And the company is still hard at work expanding and improving service.

When value goes up but the price stays low, it's a good measure of a bargain. That's why your telephone is one of the biggest bargains in your family budget.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Assemble at Hurley

The assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses will take place on June 13, 14 and 15 at the Hiller lots, Hillside avenue and Orchard street in Hurley.

The assembly previously had been planned on the village lot on Berme Road, Ellenville, but the Witnesses declare that the agreement previously made for the use of the Ellenville site was canceled by that village board. This has resulted, they say, in the cancellation of all business commitments made with the merchants of Ellenville for the housing and feeding of the 1,000 delegates expected.

According to the convention manager "the present location for the assembly is on the property of one of Jehovah's Witnesses whose word can be relied upon and where no written contract will be needed." The Hurley site was selected so that Ellenville will still serve as the center of activity and where the ministerial activities will be concentrated.

Pace Sees Army Mobilization Thing Of Indefinite Time

West Point, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—Army Secretary Frank Pace says "the current period of partial mobilization may well last indefinitely."

Pace adds that a peacetime army, within our generation, will be less than three or four times its prewar size," he told cadets of the United States Military Academy last night.

The army secretary addressed a dinner closing yesterday's jubilee convocation, the last major event in West Point's observance of the academy's 150th anniversary.

President Truman participated in the day-long activities but returned to Washington by train before the final dinner.

In an afternoon speech, Truman told the cadets he believed the free world was "well on the way" to preserving its freedom. However, he said "we must also be alert and ready to meet treachery or a renewal of aggression if that should come."

Departs From Text

Truman departed from his prepared text, omitting the reference to Russia's possession of the atom bomb in this passage:

"The forces of the Soviet Empire are large, well-trained, and equipped with modern weapons including the atom bomb. The Kremlin's desire to dominate the world is obviously unchanged."

No explanation for the change was given.

Pace told the future army officers that "we must prevent a war if possible" but must be prepared to "guide the nation to its fullest potential and strength."

"Our job today is to be better informed than the Soviets," he went on, "to use our men more effectively, to have a mobilization base capable of out-producing them, and most importantly to maintain our lead in new ideas.

"In doing so we must be prepared to fight a war if the Communists should start one."

Hundreds of American and foreign notables were here for the convocation. Among them were three Truman cabinet officers: top brass of the U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force: 13 foreign ambassadors, dozens of foreign attaches; and some 300 American and foreign college representatives.

Lifeguards Work, Too

Long Beach, Calif. (AP)—Long Beach lifeguards don't spend all their time sun bathing, charming pretty girls and saving an occasional floundering human. They also must record ocean temperatures and surf conditions. Each day, a guard takes three thermometer readings and a gander at the Pacific's mood from Long Beach's Horseshoe pier. Local newspapers and radio stations pass the information along to the public, says Roy J. (Dutch) Miller, lifeguard captain.

PHONE SERVICE BIG BARGAIN. Today's cost-of-living figure shows a jump of 89% since 1939. Yet telephone service for the average home has risen only 15% in this same period. It's one of today's best buys.

Even though your money looks the same, it buys only about half as much as it did in 1939.

That's because most things you buy have doubled in cost. Some have even tripled. But not your telephone! Today the price of telephone service for the average home is up only 15% since 1939, compared with an increase of 89% in the cost of living.

Yet for this slight increase, telephone service is a bigger buy than ever. Millions of phones have been added. Customers in the average community can call twice as many people without paying a toll charge. Operator toll dialing means faster service on thousands of long distance calls. And the company is still hard at work expanding and improving service.

When value goes up but the price stays low, it's a good measure of a bargain. That's why your telephone is one of the biggest bargains in your family budget.

WEEKEND GUESTS

The following problem is faced by many hospitable hosts living in small quarters: "When guests come for a week end, should they or my wife and I, sleep in the living room? We have only one bedroom in our apartment."

Since they are obviously either family or very nearest friends they could, with less confusion, live out of their suitcases and sleep in the living room than you could move your belongings out of your bedroom. I hope, however, that you can go out of your bedroom without going through the living room. If not, giving up your bedroom may be the only answer.

Well to Be Prepared

Dear Mrs. Post: I have invited a boy to go with me to my Senior Prom. I have, of course, bought and paid for the tickets. However, my problem is concerned with after the dance. Usually a group of boys and girls go some place afterwards for something to eat and I am wondering whether it is up to me to pay for the refreshments, or if my partner is supposed to take care of this. If this expense is mine do I give him the money beforehand?

Answer: Your partner should take care of it, and undoubtedly will, but it might be well to take some money with you on the chance that he may not have brought enough money with him.

She Calls Him Old Fool, He Pays $150 a Month

Los Angeles, May 21 (AP)—His young French wife just couldn't stay away from Maurice the bartender—not even on their wedding day—says a 57-year-old investment broker.

William B. Jevne told a court yesterday that on July 20, 1950, the day of his marriage in Paris to Jacqueline Paulette Jevne, 25-year-old model, she went swimming and dancing with Maurice, the man who had introduced them at the bar of the Continental Hotel.

Jevne said when he asked her why she married him, his bride replied: For your money. Why did you think I would marry an old fool?"

Jevne added in an answer to his wife's suit for $3,000 monthly separate maintenance that whenever he accused her of saving all her love for Maurice she told him to "drop dead."

Jevne, who also asked for an annulment or divorce, said that since he left Paris his wife has continued to entertain Maurice at 24 Boissy d'Anglas, where, he added, there's neither a swimming pool nor a dance floor.

Pending trial of her suit, Superior Judge Louis H. Burke ordered Jevne to send his wife $150 monthly.

She Calls Him Old Fool, He Pays $150 a Month

Los Angeles, May 21 (AP)—His young French wife just couldn't stay away from Maurice the bartender—not even on their wedding day—says a 57-year-old investment broker.

William B. Jevne told a court yesterday that on July 20, 1950, the day of his marriage in Paris to Jacqueline Paulette Jevne, 25-year-old model, she went swimming and dancing with Maurice, the man who had introduced them at the bar of the Continental Hotel.

Jevne said when he asked her why she married him, his bride replied: For your money. Why did you think I would marry an old fool?"

Jevne added in an answer to his wife's suit for $3,000 monthly separate maintenance that whenever he accused her of saving all her love for Maurice she told him to "drop dead."

Jevne, who also asked for an annulment or divorce, said that since he left Paris his wife has continued to entertain Maurice at 24 Boissy d'Anglas, where, he added, there's neither a swimming pool nor a dance floor.

Pending trial of her suit, Superior Judge Louis H. Burke ordered Jevne to send his wife $150 monthly.

Members of Kiwanis Visit in Middletown

Approximately 85 members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club drove to Monticello on Monday night to attend a meeting of the Monticello Kiwanis at The Paddock. Heading the local contingent were Raymond Garraghan, president, and George McCarthy, chairman of the interclub committee.

Harry Rigby, Jr., was the speaker. He outlined the advantages to the entire area of the celebration of Kingston's 300th Anniversary and invited Monticello residents to visit this city during the celebration. He also noted that planning the anniversary has instilled in Kingston residents a new appreciation of their own area.

Express purpose of the visitation was to deliver the "Traveling Drum" to Monticello. The toy drum, which contains a sum of money contributed by club members, will be passed among each club in the district and will be awarded to the club which builds up the highest point score during the time it possesses the drum. Points are awarded for attendance at interclub meetings.

Exhibits and Entertainment Win Public Approval at YW Hobby Show in Auditorium

The attractively arranged exhibits of hobbies and commercial enterprises as well as a program of entertainment received the enthusiastic approval of more than 1,000 persons attending the third annual YWCA Hudson Valley Hobby Show which opened last night in the municipal auditorium and continues through Thursday.

Amateurs who were chosen to compete in the Ted Mack Original Amateur Hour radio and TV programs are featured nightly on the entertainment program at 9 o'clock. Opening ceremonies begin at 7 p. m. An address of welcome was delivered last night by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk.

Those participating in the opening entertainment included Dorothy Narel, Roger Thorpe, Raymond Yerry, Tony Amato and the United Nations 6. Roger Baer and his accordion ensemble will be featured tonight. On Thursday evening, the entertainers will include Peter Knudsen, Shirley Albright and Bobby Fisher. Mrs. H. Van Wyck Darrow is the accompanist.

Hobbies Varied

The show includes 29 hobbyists and seven commercial exhibitors. An unusually wide variety of hobbies are represented and the hobbyists are delighted to discuss their interests with the spectators.

There is so much to see and so many outstanding hobbies, it is difficult to describe them all in a limited space. For example, a collection of salt and pepper shakers assembled from far distant countries as well as this country includes 800 sets, and is owned by Mrs. Helen Stoutenberg of West Hurley.

A well diversified show, visitors will find just as many hobbies to attract children as adults. There are doll dresses, miniature Dutch furniture, miniature railroad cars and planes, puppets, Santa's workshop, model circus, and pets, to name but a few to appeal to the youngsters.

Castle Point Jewelry

A popular exhibit is one sponsored by the V.F.W. Auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386. On display and for sale at this booth are innumerable items of jewelry which have been made by veterans in the Castle Point Hospital. The proceeds from the sales will be given to the veterans. Also on display are the ditty bags and personal item kits presented to local boys leaving the city to enter the armed forces.

The hobbyists include Alice Dunbar, Lomontville, ceramics; Coach House Players; Mrs. Clifford Rifenburg, doll dresses; Mr. and Mrs. William Blair, miniature Dutch furniture; Barbara Bight, canaries and finches; Mrs. Sadie Wiseman, hooked rugs; Henry Eighmey and his three sons, model circus; Mrs. George Dennis, bells; Ken Dittus, woodworking; Frank A. Norman, buttons; and Miss Emily Hoysradt, sketch class.

Also, Mrs. George Brown, Hurley, floral arrangements; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Herrick, puppets; M.J.M boys, miniature R.R. cars and planes; Bob Tremper, model cars; Kingston Boys Club, metalcraft; Mrs. Robert Hudler, handicraft; Joseph Kalish and Richard Dwyer, tropical fish; Mrs. Hubert Roosa, quilting; SPCA, pets; Marcia Clark, knitting; Mrs. William McVey, metalcraft and jewelry; Cub Pack, 15, Boy Scouts; William Mohr, coins; Matilda Martin shellcraft; George Sagar, Creek Locks, photography; and Mr. and Mrs. John Ford, Santa's Workshop.

The commercial exhibitors are Flanagans' with a display of luggage; Safford and Scudder, china, glassware and silver; Shults Paint Company, art supplies; Loft's, candy; Butler Furniture Company, furniture; Rose Acre Nurseries, African violets; and the Sewing Machine Mart with sewing machines.

Although not classified as a hobby, the food booth enjoyed its usual popularity with a complete sell out before closing time. A fresh supply will be available tonight.

Everybody Works

The entire membership of the Young Women's Christian Association and friends have worked together for the success of this annual project. To swell the profits this year, the members have enlisted the aid of husbands to build the booths and assist generally in making items which heretofore had to be rented or purchased. Many business people, too, have contributed lumber, hardware and other necessary materials. The proceeds from the event are used to carry on the work of the YWCA.

Members of Kiwanis Visit in Middletown

Approximately, 85 members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club drove to Monticello on Monday night to attend a meeting of the Monticello Kiwanis at The Paddock. Heading the local contingent were Raymond Garraghan, president, and George McCarthy, chairman of the interclub committee.

Harry Rigby, Jr., was the speaker. He outlined the advantages to the entire area of the celebration of Kingston's 300th Anniversary and invited Monticello residents to visit this city during the celebration. He also noted that planning the anniversary has instilled in Kingston residents a new appreciation of their own area.

Express purpose of the visitation was to deliver the "Traveling Drum" to Monticello. The toy drum, which contains a sum of money contributed by club members, will be passed among each club in the district and will be awarded to the club which builds up the highest point score during the time it possesses the drum. Points are awarded for attendance at interclub meetings.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Oscar Diedolf, Mrs. Edna L. K. Davis, Mrs. Ruth Basten and Mrs. Marion E. Van Winkle.

The children were particularly interested in the whale suspended between two floors in the museum. Animals in their natural habitat and relics of articles made by ancient peoples also intrigued the youngsters.

Thousand Attended Opening of YWCA Hobby Show

Approximately 1,000 persons attended the opening of the YWCA Hudson Valley Hobby Show which opened Tuesday evening in the Municipal Auditorium. The show continues tonight and Thursday from 7 to 10 p. m. A large collection of dolls' clothes and furniture is attractively arranged in an exhibit by Mrs. Clifford Rifenburg, 121 Fairview avenue, upper photo. Another interesting and attractive display is that of Mrs. Herbert Roosa, 75 Marius street. Exhibits and Entertainment Win Public Approval at YW Hobby Show in Auditorium

The attractively arranged exhibits of hobbies and commercial enterprises as well as a program of entertainment received the enthusiastic approval of more than 1,000 persons attending the third annual YWCA Hudson Valley Hobby Show which opened last night in the municipal auditorium and continues through Thursday.

Amateurs who were chosen to compete in the Ted Mack Original Amateur Hour radio and TV programs are featured nightly on the entertainment program at 9 o'clock. Opening ceremonies begin at 7 p. m. An address of welcome was delivered last night by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk.

Those participating in the opening entertainment included Dorothy Narel, Roger Thorpe, Raymond Yerry, Tony Amato and the United Nations 6. Roger Baer and his accordion ensemble will be featured tonight. On Thursday evening, the entertainers will include Peter Knudsen, Shirley Albright and Bobby Fisher. Mrs. H. Van Wyck Darrow is the accompanist.

Hobbies Varied

The show includes 29 hobbyists and seven commercial exhibitors. An unusually wide variety of hobbies are represented and the hobbyists are delighted to discuss their interests with the spectators.

There is so much to see and so many outstanding hobbies, it is difficult to describe them all in a limited space. For example, a collection of salt and pepper shakers assembled from far distant countries as well as this country includes 800 sets, and is owned by Mrs. Helen Stoutenberg of West Hurley.

A well diversified show, visitors will find just as many hobbies to attract children as adults. There are doll dresses, miniature Dutch furniture, miniature railroad cars and planes, puppets, Santa's workshop, model circus, and pets, to name but a few to appeal to the youngsters.

Castle Point Jewelry

A popular exhibit is one sponsored by the V.F.W. Auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386. On display and for sale at this booth are innumerable items of jewelry which have been made by veterans in the Castle Point Hospital. The proceeds from the sales will be given to the veterans. Also on display are the ditty bags and personal item kits presented to local boys leaving the city to enter the armed forces.

The hobbyists include Alice Dunbar, Lomontville, ceramics; Coach House Players; Mrs. Clifford Rifenburg, doll dresses; Mr. and Mrs. William Blair, miniature Dutch furniture; Barbara Bight, canaries and finches; Mrs. Sadie Wiseman, hooked rugs; Henry Eighmey and his three sons, model circus; Mrs. George Dennis, bells; Ken Dittus, woodworking; Frank A. Norman, buttons; and Miss Emily Hoysradt, sketch class.

Also, Mrs. George Brown, Hurley, floral arrangements; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Herrick, puppets; M.J.M boys, miniature R.R. cars and planes; Bob Tremper, model cars; Kingston Boys Club, metalcraft; Mrs. Robert Hudler, handicraft; Joseph Kalish and Richard Dwyer, tropical fish; Mrs. Hubert Roosa, quilting; SPCA, pets; Marcia Clark, knitting; Mrs. William McVey, metalcraft and jewelry; Cub Pack, 15, Boy Scouts; William Mohr, coins; Matilda Martin shellcraft; George Sagar, Creek Locks, photography; and Mr. and Mrs. John Ford, Santa's Workshop.

The commercial exhibitors are Flanagans' with a display of luggage; Safford and Scudder, china, glassware and silver; Shults Paint Company, art supplies; Loft's, candy; Butler Furniture Company, furniture; Rose Acre Nurseries, African violets; and the Sewing Machine Mart with sewing machines.

Although not classified as a hobby, the food booth enjoyed its usual popularity with a complete sell out before closing time. A fresh supply will be available tonight.

Everybody Works

The entire membership of the Young Women's Christian Association and friends have worked together for the success of this annual project. To swell the profits this year, the members have enlisted the aid of husbands to build the booths and assist generally in making items which heretofore had to be rented or purchased. Many business people, too, have contributed lumber, hardware and other necessary materials. The proceeds from the event are used to carry on the work of the YWCA.

Twentieth Century Has Annual Meeting

The Twentieth Century Club held its annual dinner at Judie's restaurant Monday evening and was followed by an annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Raymond H. Woodard, 42 Roosevelt avenue.

Mrs. Percy Gazlay Is Honored in Rochester

A festive evening was held in the Rochester Reformed Church on Friday, May 16, in honor of Mrs. Percy W. Gazlay who recently retired as organist of the church after a period of continuous service of more than 50 years.

The occasion was a happy one with the social room prettily decorated with baskets of flowers and crepe paper streamers. The tables were daintily decorated with lilies of the valley and white candles. Behind the speakers' table hung a large rosette of lilacs and a large golden "50."

Ex-Yanks Jack Jensen and Harris Push Senators Into the Spotlight

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Jackie Jensen-Bucky Harris ticket is sweeping the country. Since they opened headquarters at Washington, they've won more delegates than Eisenhower and Taft combined.

With impish delight in the embarrassment of the rich New York Yankees who let both men go, the public is getting a kick out of the surge of the underdogs.

Second place may turn out to be an over ambitious perch for the Senators. But they are looking up —not down—at the moment. Only two games behind Cleveland after last night's 2-0 decision over St. Louis, the Jensen-Harris ticket is in the mood to claim a pennant on an early ballot.

Jensen rapped Tommy Byrne for a perfect 3-for-3 night. Since joining Washington, 17 games ago, Jensen has batted .373. That brought his season average up to .314.

Shea To Face Yanks

While Jensen sprayed base hits, Harris, fired as Yank manager in 1948 basked in a new-found wealth of pitching. He opened the season with Bob Porterfield and a hope for the best. Now he hardly can wait for a chance to pitch Spec Shea (3-0) against his old Yankee mates.

Connie Marrero, the chubby little Cuban, did the shutout pitching for Harris last night with a four-hitter against the Browns. Marrero's perfect 4-0 record was a direct turnabout from his spotty form back home in Cuba where his failures were the talk of the Winter League season.

Singles by Jim Busby, Jensen and Archie Wilson following Eddie Yost's inning-opening walk gave Marrero his two-run lead in the third. He didn't need that much. The Browns were hitless from the second to the eighth as Connie struck out eight and walked only two.

While the Yanks might have reasons to regret the deal that sent Jensen to Washington, they could point with pride to the Johnny Sain purchase and Mickey Mantle's four hits at Chicago.

Sain's efficient six-hitter against Chicago last night for his fourth win, 4-3, made him the Yanks' top winner. Purchased last summer as a "stop gap" pitcher, the curveballing veteran has turned out to be a "stopper."

Boasts 110 Victories

Notching his 110th major league victory (104 of them with the Boston Braves in the National League) Sain breezed past the first 12 hitters. His march toward perfection was ended when he walked Eddie Robinson leading off the fifth. Sam Mele's first hit in 25 times at bat, broke the hitless string and Chico Carrasquel's single ended the shutout, all in the fifth.

The Yanks' 4-0 lead shrank to 4-3 in the sixth when a single by Robinson, an error by Irv Noren and successive singles by Ray Coleman and Mele produced two runs. Sain settled down to escape further trouble.

Mantle's first single scored Hank Bauer who opened the game with a walk and was bunted to second. Gene Woodling's double drove in Mantle. A walk and singles by Billy Martin and Sain made it 3-0 in the fourth while singles by Phil Rizzuto and Mantle chased loser Ken Holcombe in the fifth when the Yanks scored their final run.

Rain washed out the rest of the big league program, including the entire four-game National League schedule.

Salt Lake City—Garth Panter, Dayton, Ohio, knocked out Floyd Richardson, Canada, 6. (Middleweights, but exact weights not available.)

Double Feature Set at Rhinebeck

Rhinebeck Speedway's double feature race last Saturday night was postponed to May 24th due to rain.

The fans who braved the threatening weather found the largest field of drivers yet assembled this year ready and anxious to put on a thrilling NASCAR-sanctioned show. Starter Sam Barbers had some of the cars on the track to dry it, but rain continued to make the track hazardous and officials were forced to postpone the event.

All have signed to return to Rhinebeck Saturday for the double feature, except Larry Shurter who will be in the time trials of the famous Indianapolis 500-mile race.

There will be Charlie Barry of Syracuse and his No. 49, probably the hottest driver and sportsman car combination in this area, as well as Jim Reed, Russ Truelove, Bob Disbrow, Byron Fisher, Jerry Golden, Warren Bohensack, Dick Barnitt, Don Rudolph, Jack Nichols, Paul Roesch, Doug Garrison and many others.

City Leaguers Play Tonight

Rained out last night, the City Baseball League resumes operation this evening with a 6:15 p. m. clash between Wiltwyck Motors and Jones Dairy.

Boulevard Gulf and Wiltwyck Motors were scheduled yesterday.

Wiltwyck Motors, the flashy Highland nine that was in contention all the way in the 1951 pennant chase, will feature a refurbished lineup. Gus McCormick is the probable starter against Joneses' Tommy Fisher.

Klosterman Stops Merchants, 6-0

Big Zeke Klosterman of the Shandaken baseball club has picked up where he left off in the 1951.

The big right hander shut out Pucker Davis' Colonial Merchants of the City Baseball League, 6-0, Sunday, yielding only four scattered hits and striking out eight.

Half of the Merchants safeties went to Davis, the player-manager who cavorted at right field and first base.

Three Merchant flingers combined to hold the winners to six hits, but seven walks and Bob Kelly's timely double in the eighth inning were big items in the Shandaken attack.

A. Nissen collected two singles for the home swingers who led 1-0 at the end of four and picked up two runs in the sixth and three more in the eighth.

LaMotta Predicts Kayo Over Hairston

Detroit, May 21 (AP) — Former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta has been talking about an easy fight and even a knockout in his 10-round rematch with Eugene Hairston at Olympia Stadium tonight.

But the Bronx Bull, who now has an eye on the light heavyweight title, is rated a slight underdog. Some of the betting gentry have made Hairston a 6-5 favorite and the 22-year-old Negro was expected to be at least an even money choice by fight time, 10 p. m. (EDT). The bout will be telecast and broadcast.

LaMotta and Hairston fought to a controversial draw here March 5. For tonight's bout, LaMotta hopes to weigh 166 pounds, two and a half less than he weighed for the March encounter. Hairston expects to come in at 162, one pound more than he weighed last time.

Ex-Yanks Jack Jensen and Harris Push Senators Into the Spotlight

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Jackie Jensen-Bucky Harris ticket is sweeping the country. Since they opened headquarters at Washington, they've won more delegates than Eisenhower and Taft combined.

With impish delight in the embarrassment of the rich New York Yankees who let both men go, the public is getting a kick out of the surge of the underdogs.

Second place may turn out to be an over ambitious perch for the Senators. But they are looking up —not down—at the moment. Only two games behind Cleveland after last night's 2-0 decision over St. Louis, the Jensen-Harris ticket is in the mood to claim a pennant on an early ballot.

Jensen rapped Tommy Byrne for a perfect 3-for-3 night. Since joining Washington, 17 games ago, Jensen has batted .373. That brought his season average up to .314.

Shea To Face Yanks

While Jensen sprayed base hits, Harris, fired as Yank manager in 1948 basked in a new-found wealth of pitching. He opened the season with Bob Porterfield and a hope for the best. Now he hardly can wait for a chance to pitch Spec Shea (3-0) against his old Yankee mates.

Connie Marrero, the chubby little Cuban, did the shutout pitching for Harris last night with a four-hitter against the Browns. Marrero's perfect 4-0 record was a direct turnabout from his spotty form back home in Cuba where his failures were the talk of the Winter League season.

Singles by Jim Busby, Jensen and Archie Wilson following Eddie Yost's inning-opening walk gave Marrero his two-run lead in the third. He didn't need that much. The Browns were hitless from the second to the eighth as Connie struck out eight and walked only two.

While the Yanks might have reasons to regret the deal that sent Jensen to Washington, they could point with pride to the Johnny Sain purchase and Mickey Mantle's four hits at Chicago.

Sain's efficient six-hitter against Chicago last night for his fourth win, 4-3, made him the Yanks' top winner. Purchased last summer as a "stop gap" pitcher, the curveballing veteran has turned out to be a "stopper."

Boasts 110 Victories

Notching his 110th major league victory (104 of them with the Boston Braves in the National League) Sain breezed past the first 12 hitters. His march toward perfection was ended when he walked Eddie Robinson leading off the fifth. Sam Mele's first hit in 25 times at bat, broke the hitless string and Chico Carrasquel's single ended the shutout, all in the fifth.

The Yanks' 4-0 lead shrank to 4-3 in the sixth when a single by Robinson, an error by Irv Noren and successive singles by Ray Coleman and Mele produced two runs. Sain settled down to escape further trouble.

Mantle's first single scored Hank Bauer who opened the game with a walk and was bunted to second. Gene Woodling's double drove in Mantle. A walk and singles by Billy Martin and Sain made it 3-0 in the fourth while singles by Phil Rizzuto and Mantle chased loser Ken Holcombe in the fifth when the Yanks scored their final run.

Rain washed out the rest of the big league program, including the entire four-game National League schedule.

Salt Lake City—Garth Panter, Dayton, Ohio, knocked out Floyd Richardson, Canada, 6. (Middleweights, but exact weights not available.)

Double Feature Set at Rhinebeck

Rhinebeck Speedway's double feature race last Saturday night was postponed to May 24th due to rain.

The fans who braved the threatening weather found the largest field of drivers yet assembled this year ready and anxious to put on a thrilling NASCAR-sanctioned show. Starter Sam Barbers had some of the cars on the track to dry it, but rain continued to make the track hazardous and officials were forced to postpone the event.

All have signed to return to Rhinebeck Saturday for the double feature, except Larry Shurter who will be in the time trials of the famous Indianapolis 500-mile race.

There will be Charlie Barry of Syracuse and his No. 49, probably the hottest driver and sportsman car combination in this area, as well as Jim Reed, Russ Truelove, Bob Disbrow, Byron Fisher, Jerry Golden, Warren Bohensack, Dick Barnitt, Don Rudolph, Jack Nichols, Paul Roesch, Doug Garrison and many others.

City Leaguers Play Tonight

Rained out last night, the City Baseball League resumes operation this evening with a 6:15 p. m. clash between Wiltwyck Motors and Jones Dairy.

Boulevard Gulf and Wiltwyck Motors were scheduled yesterday.

Wiltwyck Motors, the flashy Highland nine that was in contention all the way in the 1951 pennant chase, will feature a refurbished lineup. Gus McCormick is the probable starter against Joneses' Tommy Fisher.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

to have included orders to agitate within the prison camps.

It would not be difficult for a prisoner to profess hatred for communism, then turn agitator once he was put in a compound of anti-Communists.

One thing is certain. The hard-core Communists inside the camps have outside contact.

It may be by radio, an underground chain which includes a few small boats or even a fifth column among Korean guards.

But the prisoners have been too well informed on what was happening at the armistice talks and what was taking place along the battlefront not to have outside contact.

In addition to stopping the riots, Clark's prison camp commanders are going to have to destroy all contact the prisoners have with the Communist world.

Infantry Uses

prisoner orderlies from prisoner patients, which touched off the outbreak, was proceeding today "without incident."

The camp is quiet, the army added.

Weapons Fashioned

The army said Communist fanatics began fashioning weapons of long, sharp steel-pointed spears from little rails and tent poles when ordered to get ready to be moved.

When camp officers noted their activity, American infantry guards laid aside their nightsticks for rifles and bayonets and entered the hospital enclosure.

Vicious fighting broke out. No rifle shots were fired, the army said, but the concussion grenades were brought into action. The outbreak was quelled in 2½ hours.

The army described the Red orderlies who fought so bitterly when ordered to get out of the hospital compound as "a small group of agitators" among the 1,600 Reds in the hospital.

It was presumed they are being transferred to Koje Island, 30 miles southwest of Pusan, where hard-core Communist prisoners are held.

Giant Voltage Reported

Upton, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—American scientists today are the first in the world to make billion-volt atomic particles in their research for new fields of atomic knowledge. The giant cosmotron, an atom smasher, at the Brookhaven National Laboratory near here yesterday generated atomic bullets at energies of 1,300,000,000 electron volts—three times the power ever achieved in any atom smashing machine. Energies of over two billion volts or more are expected to be attained with the 3½-million-dollar cosmotron.

2 Boys Reported Missing to Sheriff

Two boys, last seen in High Falls on Monday, are reported missing from their homes and the sheriff's office has been asked to begin a search.

Earl Williams, Jr., 15, of Alligerville, and Thomas Yerry, 15, of Kripplebush, are reported missing.

Williams is about five feet 4 inches tall, weighs about 125 and has red hair. He was wearing a pair of western style dungarees, gray sweat shirt and brown oxfords when he left home.

Yerry is five feet six inches tall, chuncky built weighing about 145 pounds and has reddish brown hair, brown eyes and was wearing a blue polo shirt, blue dungarees and high brown shoes.

Climate More Uniform

The south temperate zone has a more uniform climate than the north temperate zone because of the broader ocean areas in the south zone.

Night Spots Checked

Chicago, May 21 (AP)—Investigators today began checking near north side night spots for clues to the death of a visiting advertising executive whose body was found early yesterday in a gutter on Chicago's west side. A green hat check stub appeared to be the principal clue in the unexplained death of Richard M. Howland, 35, of Riverside, Conn.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

to have included orders to agitate within the prison camps.

It would not be difficult for a prisoner to profess hatred for communism, then turn agitator once he was put in a compound of anti-Communists.

One thing is certain. The hard-core Communists inside the camps have outside contact.

It may be by radio, an underground chain which includes a few small boats or even a fifth column among Korean guards.

But the prisoners have been too well informed on what was happening at the armistice talks and what was taking place along the battlefront not to have outside contact.

In addition to stopping the riots, Clark's prison camp commanders are going to have to destroy all contact the prisoners have with the Communist world.

Infantry Uses

prisoner orderlies from prisoner patients, which touched off the outbreak, was proceeding today "without incident."

The camp is quiet, the army added.

Weapons Fashioned

The army said Communist fanatics began fashioning weapons of long, sharp steel-pointed spears from little rails and tent poles when ordered to get ready to be moved.

When camp officers noted their activity, American infantry guards laid aside their nightsticks for rifles and bayonets and entered the hospital enclosure.

Vicious fighting broke out. No rifle shots were fired, the army said, but the concussion grenades were brought into action. The outbreak was quelled in 2½ hours.

The army described the Red orderlies who fought so bitterly when ordered to get out of the hospital compound as "a small group of agitators" among the 1,600 Reds in the hospital.

It was presumed they are being transferred to Koje Island, 30 miles southwest of Pusan, where hard-core Communist prisoners are held.

Giant Voltage Reported

Upton, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—American scientists today are the first in the world to make billion-volt atomic particles in their research for new fields of atomic knowledge. The giant cosmotron, an atom smasher, at the Brookhaven National Laboratory near here yesterday generated atomic bullets at energies of 1,300,000,000 electron volts—three times the power ever achieved in any atom smashing machine. Energies of over two billion volts or more are expected to be attained with the 3½-million-dollar cosmotron.

2 Boys Reported Missing to Sheriff

Two boys, last seen in High Falls on Monday, are reported missing from their homes and the sheriff's office has been asked to begin a search.

Earl Williams, Jr., 15, of Alligerville, and Thomas Yerry, 15, of Kripplebush, are reported missing.

Williams is about five feet 4 inches tall, weighs about 125 and has red hair. He was wearing a pair of western style dungarees, gray sweat shirt and brown oxfords when he left home.

Yerry is five feet six inches tall, chuncky built weighing about 145 pounds and has reddish brown hair, brown eyes and was wearing a blue polo shirt, blue dungarees and high brown shoes.

Climate More Uniform

The south temperate zone has a more uniform climate than the north temperate zone because of the broader ocean areas in the south zone.

Panty Raiders Still Carry On

(By The Associated Press)

The collegiate panty raiders hit again in many sections of the nation last night but coeds and police stymied most of their efforts to filch last souvenirs.

There were some arrests and a few reports of damage.

In general, however, the undie-snatchers seemed somewhat less boisterous than the thousands of youth from nearly a dozen schools that joined in the latest college craze Monday night.

The weird fad—raiding women's dormitories and sorority houses in search of undergarments—started some weeks ago. Authorities have blamed it on sex, simple-mindedness and just a means of blowing off steam before final examinations start.

U of P Activities

At the University of Pennsylvania last night 200 policemen and four fire engine companies prevented men students from raiding two women's dormitories and a nurses' home. An estimated 1500 to 2000 youths were in the crowd. Twenty-two more rebellious students were taken to the police station and later released with warnings.

Coeds cooled off University of Kansas raiders with buckets of water tossed from upper windows. Several hundred men sought to enter two dormitories but only a few got in.

Twelve University of Tennessee students were arrested during a wild demonstration. Carloads of students toured the campus area shooting out street lights but no attempt was made to repeat the panty forays of the previous night.

Told to Get Out of Town

Police halted a potential raid at Auburn (Alabama Polytechnic Institute) when several hundred students gathered. About 25 students rushed Photographer Paul Robertson and Reporter Bill Bates of the Mongomery (Ala.) Advertiser, destroyed films and told them to get out of town.

Students at Washington State College reported some success in their forays at Pullman, Wash. About 250 students invaded five housing units and picked up undies in four. Coeds drenched some with water and two raiders were arrested.

At Columbia, Mo., the entire police force, armed with night sticks and tear gas, patrolled the streets but no unusual incidents were reported. The local National Guard unit also stood by. The mobilization was ordered after women at Stephens and Christian colleges and the University of Missouri received anonymous telephone calls that another raid was planned.

Damage estimated at thousands of dollars was caused at the three schools during a wild series of raids Monday night.

Minor damage to women's quarters was reported during a foray for flimsies at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Other demonstrations last night occurred at Kansas State College, Temple, West Virginia University and the Universities of Arizona, Georgia and Alabama.

Buried With Master

Rochester, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—A small terrier who saw his master die at the wheel of an auto was "put to sleep" by a veterinarian last night and will be buried with his master Thursday. Trixie was with Albert W. Badgley, 69, when the Honeoye Falls man died of a heart attack yesterday. The car Badgley was driving crashed into a tree in the town of Mendon, about five miles south of here. Mrs. Thelma Bowen, Badgley's daughter said last night it was her father's wish that Trixie "be put to sleep" by a veterinarian and buried with him.

Uniform Price Forecast for Milk

New York, May 21 (AP)—A uniform price of $3.95 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) is forecast for dairy farmers for May milk deliveries to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed.

The estimated producer butterfat differential for May is 6.4 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

The forecast was released last night by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

Blanford said he based the forecast on an estimated production of 766 million pounds of milk in May. This would mean an average daily output of 500 pounds by each of the estimated 49,400 producers in the milkshed.

June 10 was set as the deadline for handlers to submit reports to the administrator on the uses made of their May milk receipts. Using these reports, the administrator will compute and announce the actual uniform price and butterfat differential for May not later than June 14. June 25 is the deadline for handlers to make payments to their producers.

McGranery Is Confirmed

Washington, May 21 (AP)—A lopsided Senate vote cleared the way for James P. McGranery to walk into the Justice Department today and take over as the boss. By a 52 to 18 vote, the Senate last night confirmed President Truman's nomination of the 56-year-old Philadelphia jurist to succeed J. Howard McGrath as attorney general. All the votes against the appointment were cast by Republicans, but 14 other Republicans joined 18 Democrats in voting for confirmation.

Orecchio Is Sentenced

Hackensack, N. J., May 21 (AP)—Former chief of Bergen county detectives Michael Orecchio was sentenced to 2 to 3 years in state prison today on his conviction of ignoring three high stake dice games run by gambler Joe Adonis.

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: I heard my husband talking about Personal Property Floater insurance to another man and when I asked him what it was he said it was insurance against property floating away in a flood. He was just fooling but I want to surprise him with my knowledge. Can you tell me what it is?

ANSWER: There are a few exceptions and exclusions but generally speaking a Personal Property Floater insures against loss of or damage to most items of personal property from any cause anywhere in the world. A good insurance agent can give you a complete explanation.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Panty Raiders Still Carry On

(By The Associated Press)

The collegiate panty raiders hit again in many sections of the nation last night but coeds and police stymied most of their efforts to filch last souvenirs.

There were some arrests and a few reports of damage.

In general, however, the undie-snatchers seemed somewhat less boisterous than the thousands of youth from nearly a dozen schools that joined in the latest college craze Monday night.

The weird fad—raiding women's dormitories and sorority houses in search of undergarments—started some weeks ago. Authorities have blamed it on sex, simple-mindedness and just a means of blowing off steam before final examinations start.

U of P Activities

At the University of Pennsylvania last night 200 policemen and four fire engine companies prevented men students from raiding two women's dormitories and a nurses' home. An estimated 1500 to 2000 youths were in the crowd. Twenty-two more rebellious students were taken to the police station and later released with warnings.

Coeds cooled off University of Kansas raiders with buckets of water tossed from upper windows. Several hundred men sought to enter two dormitories but only a few got in.

Twelve University of Tennessee students were arrested during a wild demonstration. Carloads of students toured the campus area shooting out street lights but no attempt was made to repeat the panty forays of the previous night.

Told to Get Out of Town

Police halted a potential raid at Auburn (Alabama Polytechnic Institute) when several hundred students gathered. About 25 students rushed Photographer Paul Robertson and Reporter Bill Bates of the Mongomery (Ala.) Advertiser, destroyed films and told them to get out of town.

Students at Washington State College reported some success in their forays at Pullman, Wash. About 250 students invaded five housing units and picked up undies in four. Coeds drenched some with water and two raiders were arrested.

At Columbia, Mo., the entire police force, armed with night sticks and tear gas, patrolled the streets but no unusual incidents were reported. The local National Guard unit also stood by. The mobilization was ordered after women at Stephens and Christian colleges and the University of Missouri received anonymous telephone calls that another raid was planned.

Damage estimated at thousands of dollars was caused at the three schools during a wild series of raids Monday night.

Minor damage to women's quarters was reported during a foray for flimsies at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Other demonstrations last night occurred at Kansas State College, Temple, West Virginia University and the Universities of Arizona, Georgia and Alabama.

Buried With Master

Rochester, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—A small terrier who saw his master die at the wheel of an auto was "put to sleep" by a veterinarian last night and will be buried with his master Thursday. Trixie was with Albert W. Badgley, 69, when the Honeoye Falls man died of a heart attack yesterday. The car Badgley was driving crashed into a tree in the town of Mendon, about five miles south of here. Mrs. Thelma Bowen, Badgley's daughter said last night it was her father's wish that Trixie "be put to sleep" by a veterinarian and buried with him.

Uniform Price Forecast for Milk

New York, May 21 (AP)—A uniform price of $3.95 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) is forecast for dairy farmers for May milk deliveries to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed.

The estimated producer butterfat differential for May is 6.4 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

The forecast was released last night by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

Blanford said he based the forecast on an estimated production of 766 million pounds of milk in May. This would mean an average daily output of 500 pounds by each of the estimated 49,400 producers in the milkshed.

June 10 was set as the deadline for handlers to submit reports to the administrator on the uses made of their May milk receipts. Using these reports, the administrator will compute and announce the actual uniform price and butterfat differential for May not later than June 14. June 25 is the deadline for handlers to make payments to their producers.

McGranery Is Confirmed

Washington, May 21 (AP)—A lopsided Senate vote cleared the way for James P. McGranery to walk into the Justice Department today and take over as the boss. By a 52 to 18 vote, the Senate last night confirmed President Truman's nomination of the 56-year-old Philadelphia jurist to succeed J. Howard McGrath as attorney general. All the votes against the appointment were cast by Republicans, but 14 other Republicans joined 18 Democrats in voting for confirmation.

Orecchio Is Sentenced

Hackensack, N. J., May 21 (AP)—Former chief of Bergen county detectives Michael Orecchio was sentenced to 2 to 3 years in state prison today on his conviction of ignoring three high stake dice games run by gambler Joe Adonis.

QUESTION: I heard my husband talking about Personal Property Floater insurance to another man and when I asked him what it was he said it was insurance against property floating away in a flood. He was just fooling but I want to surprise him with my knowledge. Can you tell me what it is?

ANSWER: There are a few exceptions and exclusions but generally speaking a Personal Property Floater insures against loss of or damage to most items of personal property from any cause anywhere in the world. A good insurance agent can give you a complete explanation.

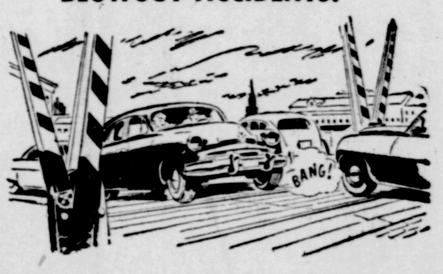
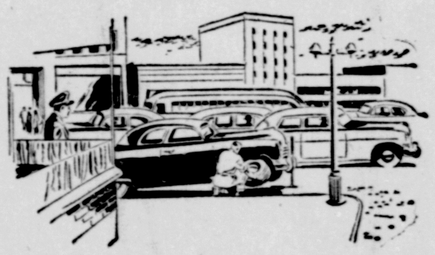
1. NO MORE WORRYING ABOUT BLOWOUT ACCIDENTS.



2. NO MORE LOST TIME CHANGING FLATS FROM PUNCTURES.



ORDINARY TUBE

When this tube blows out, all the air escapes in a rush and very often the car is thrown out of control. Tragic accidents may result.

HOW THE LIFEGUARD WORKS

Blowout-safe . . . When this tube blows out only the air in the outer chamber escapes. The inner chamber retains enough air to permit a safe, straightline stop. No tragic accidents result.

Puncture-Safe . . . When this tube is punctured, Goodyear puncture sealant (a layer of gum rubber) flows into the hole and around the puncturing object to prevent loss of air.
